

Price loses House Armed Services chairmanship

REP. MELVIN PRICE

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Congressman Melvin Price of this district—defeated 121 to 118 Friday afternoon by House Democrats for a sixth two-year term as Armed Services Committee chairman—vows to remain active and to continue wielding his influence as the committee's ranking member.

Observing his 60th birthday on New Year's Day, the East St. Louisian is starting his 21st consecutive two-year term in Congress. The 252 Democrats caucused in Washington prior to the formal start of the 99th Congressional session.

DENYING TALK by some that he is too old, too frail, too feeble or too passive to serve ably in the chairmanship, Price is convinced that he provided skilled and energetic leadership since winning the chairmanship in 1975. He is a past chairman of the Joint House-Senate Committee on Atomic Energy and is highly experienced on matters of worldwide defense strategy.

He thinks much of the unexpected large opposition to him stemmed from some Democrats' belief that less should be spent on national defense.

Price, an Army non-commissioned officer when first elected in November 1944, has fought for efficiency in Department of Defense spending but has advocated an adequate military arsenal to offset growing Soviet weaponry.

HIS ONLY REGRET is that he lost, he said during the weekend, adding that it will not affect his yet-to-be made decision on whether to seek re-election to the U.S. House in 1986.

"I worked hard before I became Armed Services chairman and I won't change my habits," Price promised in saying he may continue as chairman of the Research and Development Subcommittee.

He had agreed to give up the subcommittee leadership if re-elected as committee chairman.

HOUSE SPEAKER Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill and other key House leaders actively supported Price for re-election as head of the committee but, in general, the younger group of Democratic congressmen rebelled. O'Neill is not expected to be opposed for re-election as speaker but has said he will retire from Congress next year.

Seniority usually has determined committee chairmanships but 10 years ago Price was chosen after the party caucus had blocked the incumbent, F. Edward Hebert of Louisiana.

Price before his ouster rejected a proposal that he become chairman emeritus. He said he has arthritis and poor hearing but otherwise is healthy and vigorous.

OUTLINING HIS record, Price said he has never missed a committee meeting and never missed a vote.

He added that armed services legislation always advanced in a timely fashion and traditionally met with success after floor debate.

After his narrow loss Friday, Price backed Cong. Charles Bennett, 74, of Florida as his successor.

BUT BENNETT was defeated

Cable TV rate hike proposed

A representative of South-Western Cable TV, Ltd., will attend the Jan. 15 city council meeting in Granite City to discuss a possible increase in the fees for basic cable service and the premium movie channels.

According to a communication received by the city, the cable company is seeking a $1 increase in the basic service charge and a 75-cent increase in each of the movie rates.

CURRENTLY, THE basic cable charge is $8. The current rate on Home Box Office is $8.75, Showtime is $3.50 and The Movie Channel is $8.25.

The previous rate adjustment on the basic charges occurred in August of 1983, when rates were raised $1.

In the letter to the council, the cable company said that it will add two channels to the basic service "to help ease the feeling that many consumers have when they receive similar increases from the utility companies and feel that they are paying more for less."

THE LETTER cited union contracts, increasing product costs and taxes as their reasons for the rate increase.

Also noted in the letter, is the Cable Telecommunications Act, which was signed into law by President Reagan in October. The law helps both the communities and cable service providers more clearly define the process of cable regulation.

According to the letter, the rate adjustment sought by the cable company is authorized under the cable bill.

LON CARRUTH, general manager of South-Western Cable TV, Ltd., could not be reached for comment.

The city currently has a committee set up to monitor the workings of the cable company. Committee members include Chairman Stephen Saltich, Michael Modrusic and Fred "Pat" Schuman.

The aldermen will have a final say on the increase, according to City Clerk Robert W. Stevens. Council members may opt to go with another cable service if they feel the increase is not justified.

WATER, WATER EVERYWHERE! Heavy rains last week, coupled with closed water outlets, raised the level of Horseshoe Lake over its banks. Shown is Leyton Road where it goes through state park territory on the western side of the lake. Walter "Shang" Greathouse, executive director of the Metro-East Sanitary District, said he decided not to open the low water dam until the level of the Mississippi River is down so the district does not have to pay about $6,000 a day in electricity to pump the water into the river. The Mississippi was at 22.5 feet Friday, but was expected to drop to 11.5 feet today, well below the level where the water from the lake will flow by gravity into the river without pumping.

Sasyk resignation effective Jan. 15

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk, after serving 14 years in office, announced again Friday night his intention of resigning.

"This is my birthday, and so there will be no misunderstanding, I hereby submit my resignation as mayor of the city of Madison effective Tuesday, Jan. 15," the mayor told the aldermen.

THE COUNCIL unanimously approved the motion to accept his resignation, but there was debate concerning his suggestion that Alderman Thomas Gordon be named acting mayor until the next election. Gordon was picked on a 6-3 vote.

"I have been fair and honest as your mayor and, through the years, have accomplished many things for the benefit of the city. We have a clean town and people are fixing up their property. I want to thank the aldermen for their fine support over the 14 years I have served as mayor," Sasyk said in the council session. He added, "This administration has been innovative with work on the streets and alleys, building of the shopping center and the fire alarm system. I look with pride on all projects in the 14 years and again thank all for their fine support."

Gordon is named the acting mayor

"THIS ANNOUNCEMENT has been delayed as I tried to get this new project (a proposed raceway described below) off the drawing board before I left office. I intend to help Tom (Gordon) finish these projects, as he has been involved in the negotiations," the mayor added.

Being the alderman accepted his suggestion to accept Gordon as acting mayor, Alderman Don Garrett questioned whether it has been

Plans for major racetrack announced

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

Before reading his resignation statement Friday night (see story at left), Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk presented plans for a large commercial project to the Madison City Council.

Sasyk introduced Ted Haines and Kevin Elcher, representatives of St. Louis International Raceway, Inc., who explained the proposed plan to build a Trans-Am raceway around the current dragstrip on Route 203 southeast of Madison, at a cost not to exceed $7.5 million.

HAINES ADDRESSED the council saying that he intends to bring a major motor sport industry to the area. This will bring drivers from Europe, South America and United States and cars from all over the world here. "I also want to try to get 'Indy' (Indianapolis 500-type) cars here for the 1986-87 season," he said.

"Motor sports revitalized the Detroit automakers and led to a lot of this turnover that is on an international level, with drivers of a international level," Haines remarked.

Haines continued, "The revenue will not only be from the raceway but will involve concessions with Beatrice Foods, dairy products, fashions, drinks and also with top magazines."

ALDERMEN approved a resolution authorizing the execution of a memorandum of agreement with the raceway. In part, the resolution read—"the issuer (city of Madison) finds, declares and ascertains that conditions of unemployment will be relieved, existing levels of employment will be maintained and the increase of industry and commerce will be encouraged within the state of Illinois by the construction, acquisition, reconstruction, improvement, betterment of extension of a commercial motor sports facility including, but not limited to, facilities for racing, testing and maintaining race vehicles, classroom facilities for competition and driver safety schools, exposition facilities and grandstand, concession, parking, locker room and other facilities to accommodate spectators and participants."

Plans call for a 2.2 mile asphalt course with 13 turns (eight right and five left) and a straightaway using a part of the current dragstrip. There already exists a moto-cross area for cycles. Track capacity will be 55 race cars and 52,000 spectators.

Mayor Sasyk spoke on the anticipated revenue to the city of Madison as a result of the proposed construction and operation of the raceway.

"FIRST OF ALL let me explain the issuance of industrial development revenue bonds in an aggregate principal amount of $7.5 million in no way obligates the city of Madison to pay any monies. I can see that the city can realize at least $100,000 a year as a result of this project," Sasyk said.

We are now negotiating to employ about 30 to 35 security people for each event and there are now 90 events (at the raceway) set up for this year, and to collect the revenue from parking and sales tax. We want all the security people and we will do all the hiring. Understand these people will have to be trained for this position, but Police Chief Don Bridick knows about this," the mayor added.

Speculating that this project would increase and motivate more business in the area for motels, sales

EMOTIONAL MOMENT. A visibly-shaken Christ Costoff, Madison alderman in Ward Two, is consoled by new Madison acting Mayor Thomas Gordon after the Friday night meeting of the city council. Despite an attempt by some aldermen to have Costoff, the senior alderman, seated as the acting mayor, subsequent to Mayor Mike Sasyk's resignation, Gordon was the only alderman nominated for the position.

PROPOSED RACETRACK

Trooper charges GC man with DUI

Dean L. Worthen, 20, of 2137 Benton St., was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol by an Illinois State trooper last week at Route 162 and Maryville Road, where his vehicle reportedly was in a ditch.

A few minutes before his arrest, Worthen was traveling west on Northridge and drove across four lanes of Maryville Road, where his pickup truck allegedly struck a pine tree in the yard of Robert Pacheco, 2729 Maryville Road.

The driver reportedly backed up into the front yard at a neighboring house and went south on Maryville Road and was stopped by a Granite City officer before being turned over to the state trooper.

DAMAGES FURNITURE

Darlene Gates, 1700 Delmar Ave., reported last week that furniture and dishes were broken by a former friend, who had left the dwelling when officers arrived.

HAMMERTOEES

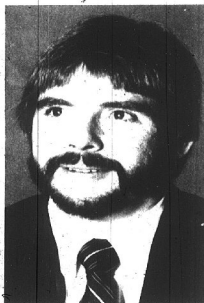

A hammertoe is a condition in which the toe becomes fixed in a bent position forcing the joint to push upward above the other toes and against the top of the shoe. It can be present at birth, be hereditary, or acquired later in life by trauma or disease. They are caused by a muscle imbalance in which the muscle that bends the toe overpowers the ones that keep it straight. Any toe may be involved but it usually affects the second or the fifth digit.

This deformity can cause a great deal of pain. It can be accompanied by enlarged and inflamed joints. Often a hard corn is present on the top of the toe. They often break open from friction from the top of the shoe and become infected. It may become almost impossible to wear a closed in shoe.

The treatment of a hammertoe may be conservative or surgical. If conservative treatment eliminates the problem or is needed only for occasional relief, then that is all that is necessary. However, if the toe is painful, or if conservative treatment gives only minimal relief for a short time, or if it is difficult to wear a shoe, then further treatment is indicated. Fortunately, there is a simple and painless procedure which can be performed in the doctor's office or in the hospital to cure this painful condition. This usually results in little or no time off of work and the patient is allowed to ambulate the following day.

TELEVISION GONE

In two break-ins at the home of Eddie Powers, 313 Fourth St., Venice, reported last week, a 19-inch color television, two courtesy caps, clothing items and a bottle were taken. The first time the dwelling was entered, the intruder pried a padlock from a storm door, forced an inside door and ransacked rooms, reports said.

'Ghost buster' is MUFON's speaker

The Mutual UFO Network (MUFON) will present the St. Louis area's very own "Ghost Buster," Sandy Boucher, as the speaker for their monthly dinner meeting, Tuesday, Jan. 8 at 6:30 p.m. at Fancals Restaurant, Highway 137 and Mall Road, Collinsville.

Sandy has been a professional spirit investigator for six years. She feels that the majority of ghosts frequenting our planet are intelligent spirits and she will explain why they are here, where they come from, and how she deals with them. She will also present photos and tape recordings.

She only recently saw the movie "Ghost Busters" and discovered that the producers and directors had visited a reportedly haunted St. Louis restaurant known as the Old Lemp Mansion for background information to help familiarize them with the subject of their movie. Sandy herself has been investigating the Lemp Mansion for nearly six years and much of the data from her findings were made available to them.

She has been interested in ghosts and ESP since she was 12, about the time she had a UFO encounter. Sandy theorizes that the so-called "space aliens" could be of a spirit nature. She has worked psychic fairs, made three television programs, given lectures to all types of organizations, and participates regularly on KXOK talk shows. Lately she has been devoting much of her time to faith healing and is writing two books on ghosts.

This meeting is open to the public. Further information may be obtained from Karen Teller, Illinois State Section director of MUFON at 345-7400.

WOULD-BE THIEVES DAMAGE VEHICLES

An unsuccessful attempt was made to steal a 1973 station wagon belonging to Katherine Hoosier, 3900 Gaslight Walk, Pontoon Beach, while it was parked in the Washington Avenue parking area at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, it was reported last week.

The thief punched the ignition and damaged the steering and horn assembly, it was noted.

Rose Chapman of Fieldon, Ill., reported the locks on her 1979 Ford likewise were damaged by someone trying to get inside. The car was parked at the same location as the Hoosier vehicle.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED

Attorney At Law

Should parents be allowed to recover if a wrongful death action for the loss of a child? If they are allowed to recover damages from the negligent party who caused the child's death, should the age of the child at death be a controlling factor? These are questions that were recently answered by the Illinois Courts in two recent cases.

The Illinois Wrongful Death Act provides the basic language governing recovery in wrongful death cases. This law provides that a jury shall award damages in this type of case based on the "pecuniary injuries" (money injuries) suffered by the surviving spouse and next of kin of the deceased person. This would seem to indicate that the survivors could only recover if the deceased was actually supporting them. Our Courts, however, have expanded the meaning of "pecuniary injury" to include nonmonetary losses.

In a 1984 case decided by the Illinois Supreme Court, the Court for the first time addressed the question of whether parents could recover for the death of a minor child under the Wrongful Death Act. Obviously, there is no actual loss of financial support to the parents in a case such as this. The parents argued that they should be allowed to recover for loss of companionship, guidance, advice, love and affection of the child. The Court agreed to allow recovery in this case, thereby expanding the meaning of "pecuniary injury" beyond what the Illinois legislature probably ever intended. The Court noted, however, that they were not deciding whether parents could likewise recover damages for the death of an adult child.

This question was answered in a wrongful death case decided in October of 1984. Here a 38 year old man died in an automobile accident as a result of another driver's negligence. The deceased was a bachelor who was never married. At the time of his death, his mother lived with him in his home.

The question before the Court here was whether the mother suffered a "pecuniary injury" so as to allow her to recover under the Illinois Wrongful Death Act. The Court noted that the earlier case allowed parents to recover for the death of a minor child, and that the age of the child at death should not be controlling. The Court concluded that the decedent's mother lived with him and was dependent upon him for companionship and advice, and therefore she should be allowed to recover for his death.

Madison city stickers on sale

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

Madison city stickers now are on sale at the Madison City Hall at a cost of $1 through Jan. 31. After that date they will cost $5, Judy Donaldson, comptroller, informed the Madison City Council Friday night.

She added that senior citizens who reached age 62 prior to Jan. 1 will receive their stickers free of charge. Bills in the amount of $49,082 were approved to be paid during the council session.

An ongoing problem of finding the owners of the Greenhall building, 801 Washington Ave., for the purpose of notifying them of condemnation proceedings remains stalemated. John Dutko, building inspector, informed the council the assistant city attorney received a title report and it lists only deceased people, therefore he is continuing his search for beneficiaries.

A long list of liens was filed against the property, and they will have to be notified of any proceeding, according to law, the attorney explained.

Mayor Mike Sasyk asked the city attorneys to continue this search and expedite it, if all possible.

A letter from the Illinois-American Water Co., informed the council members of a change in the cost of providing water necessary to meet the fire protection of the city.

The letter in part read, "Under tariffs approved by the Illinois Commerce Commission, the company currently bills each municipality at the rate of $8 per year for each public fire hydrant within its area. Earlier this year, the Illinois General Assembly enacted a law, known as Public Act 83-1255, which became effective July 1, 1985, that accomplishes the following changes in the methods of billing for fire protection service:

"We will not be permitted to bill your municipality for public fire protection charges after July 1, unless there is an agreement in writing to pay a specific charge for such service. Collection of shortfall can be either by imposing a separate public fire protection charge on the bills of individual water customers within your municipality to recover substantially the entire shortfall; or by some combination of the above or by some combination and recovery under the company's general water service rates.

The present annual bill for public fire protection service is $8,755.

A form of agreement was attached to the notice and R.W. Greaves, vice-president and manager of the water company, requested a response by Jan. 15.

The documents were referred to the city attorney to study and return to the next council meeting with his recommendation.

Council members approved a request from Illinois Power Co. to replace a gas main in the alley between Madison Avenue and State Street from Fifth to Seventh streets. They also approved granting Illinois Bell the right to obtain an easement on part of the south 140 feet of Lot 7 of the Stephen Maeras Industrial Park. The easement will provide a location for placing of a cross connect terminal, to make an available additional facilities for the industrial park.

Another communication from Chemical Bank, Jericho, N.Y., informed the council of a rate adjustment as required by the bond, and increased payments in relation to Andeco Steel, Inc., was read.

A request for permission to borrow $19,000 from the Revenue Share Fund for the Liability Insurance Fund, from Mrs. Donaldson, was approved by the aldermen.

Johnson seeks new park board term in Venice

Arnold Johnson, president of the Venice Park Board, told the Press-Record Friday he will file petitions this week to seek a six-year board member term in the April election.

Appointed to a board vacancy in January 1984, after Calvin Radloff resigned, Johnson was elected in May as president of the five-member board. Joan Silas is vice president and the other members are the Rev. John Henry Williams, Barbara Harrell and Earl Hogan. Johnson, 27, and his wife, Evora, have a family that consists of Michelle, Dale and Alishah.

He holds a degree in chemistry from Illinois State University, Normal, and is employed by a chemical laboratory in St. Louis.

Johnson attended elementary school in Venice and moved back to the local community about four years ago.

He is a past president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People college branch at ISU and has served as manager of the New Salem Baptist Church youth baseball team.

The candidate is an enthusiastic backer of the extensive softball and baseball programs in the Venice park district, plus the district's summer recreation program for children and other Lee Park programs, including operation of the Venice Recreation Center. There are park-operated activities at the center on Broadway and it also is utilized by various local organizations.

The board positions up for election in 1985 are those of Johnson and Barbara Harrell.

VENICE SENIORS TO REORGANIZE THURSDAY

Marion Guest, president of the Silver Belles senior citizens' group in Venice, is urging all Venice seniors to attend the regular luncheon at noon Thursday at the new Venice Senior Citizens' and Community Center, Brown and Klein streets, to discuss reorganizing the senior group.

Discussion will include potential new officers and attracting new members, according to Heien King, a spokesman for the group.

A program in honor of the memory of the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. will be conducted at New Salem Baptist Church, 1349 Klein St., Venice, on Sunday, Jan. 13, at 4 p.m., according to a letter from the Rev. John H. Williams, pastor. The letter requested the mayor or a representative prepare a proclamation for the congregation.

Bids for a new pickup truck, a dump truck, fire equipment and sewer cleaning equipment were read and referred to the finance and purchase committee. Their recommendation is to be presented at the Jan. 15 meeting.

Arrest GC man after shoe store here is robbed

An information alleging armed robbery was issued by the Madison County state's attorney Friday against Jeffrey A. Voss, 19, of 2003 Washington Ave., who is accused of robbing the Payless shoe store, 3020 Madison Ave., Thursday morning.

Taken into custody by Granite City police at 8 a.m. Friday at his home, Voss pleaded innocent Saturday afternoon before Associate Judge Thomas Hilbrand.

Voss was transferred at 4 p.m. Saturday to the Madison County jail in lieu of $70,000 bond, authorities said.

Displaying a steel handgun, a robber had obtained about $100 from a cash register at the store.

He initially said he wanted to buy a pair of boots, and tried on a brown boot. After walking about in it, he pulled the gun from a pocket and said, "This is a robbery. Give me your money."

He fled through a door, running east around the store building. Police were notified a short time later, and their investigation followed.

Dinner party for Nurses' Alumnae

The St. Elizabeth Medical Center's Nurses' Alumnae group conducted its traditional holiday party at Charlie's Restaurant, where dinner was served at festively decorated tables.

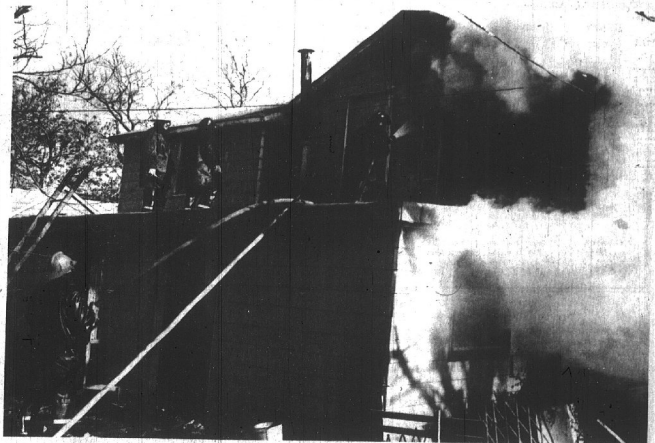

Prior to the meal, Eunice Oros, alumnae president, offered greetings and welcomed the 27 members and 12 special guests attending.

Gifts were exchanged and seasonal songs were sung under the direction of William Ryan, a guest.

Hostesses for the evening were Blanche Blake, Martha Bischoff, Evelyn Buenger and Evelyn Cunningham.

Mrs. Oros said the next business meeting and program will take place March 19.

Members of the alumnae are graduates of the former St. Elizabeth Hospital School of Nursing.

DWELLING GUTTED.

Venice volunteer firefighters direct their hoses on the second story of the home of Rose Welch, 515 S. 4th St., in Venice Friday morning. The home was gutted by the fire. One fireman, Harold Koelker Jr., suffered tendon damage below one of his knees, requiring surgery. He was released from St. Elizabeth Medical Center on Saturday. Six dogs were killed by the blaze.

RE/MAX office shuts doors to business

At 4:30 p.m. Friday, the RE/MAX real estate office at 6 American Village Shopping Center closed its doors and went out of business.

According to local RE/MAX office manager Rosalie Stern, the Collinsville and Granite City offices were closed Friday, while offices in Belleville and Godfrey closed last November. Offices in Bethalto and O'Fallon remain open.

Mrs. Stern said the owner, Bernie Becherer, had hoped to sell all six offices, but when those efforts failed, he began to close the real estate offices.

Only three agents were working in the Granite City office at the time of closing, Mrs. Stern noted. "This has been in the works for several months," she added.

Mrs. Stern advises persons with questions about pending real estate transactions being handled by RE/MAX to call her at Realty World Star, Inc., at 876-0024.

Becherer said this morning he would make no comment about the closings.

Probation and jail ordered for Harris

Madison County Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill has sentenced Kenneth Harris, 26, of 4012 Oakmont, Apt. 2, Ponton Beach, to serve 10 days in jail, plus a year's probation, and to pay a $650 fine, $55 court costs and $6 special costs for battery.

Harris pleaded guilty Dec. 4 to an Oct. 4 charge filed after a knifing occurring outside Geo's Lounge in Granite City.

Supervision ordered on deceptive practice

Madison County Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick has ordered one year of court supervision for Randall Brown, 35, of 2851 Grand Ave., Brown pleaded guilty Nov. 13 to a June 22, 1984, charge of deceptive practice. He also was ordered to pay $35 in court costs.

A forgery charge against Brown was dismissed on a motion of the state's attorney.

REPORTS BEATING WITNESS PIPE

Officers went to assist an ambulance crew at an apartment in the 3100 block of Kirkpatrick Homes at 2:30 a.m. Sunday, where Jeff Means, 16, of 1608 Kirkpatrick Homes, was found bleeding from a head injury.

The youth was at another apartment when two men entered, started questioning him about a relative and began shoving him, he alleged. One man struck him with a steel pipe while the other assailant held him down, the youth told police.

Means was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and was released after treatment.

FILE CHARGES AGAINST 2 YOUTHS IN VEHICLE

Officers alleged seeing a vehicle cross 30th Street and Madison Avenue without headlights at 12:15 a.m. Sunday and stopped the car in the 3000 block of Grand Avenue.

The driver, Timothy P. Cox, 18, of 2124 Devery Ave., was charged with driving without headlights and driving while his license was revoked. He is to appear in court by Feb. 8.

John R. Krug, 17, of 2406 Illinois Ave., a passenger, was charged with a curfew violation. He was freed upon posting a $52 cash bond.

A young woman in the auto who was to attain her 18th birthday within 24 hours was released without being charged under the curfew statute.

STEAL GAS TANKS

Two six-gallon pressurized gasoline tanks valued at $50 each were stolen from a boat belonging to Charles Mullins, 56 Parktowne West, while the craft was parked for the winter months at 22nd Street and Parktowne Drive, he reported at 12:20 p.m. Saturday. Minor damage also was incurred to the boat, he said.

MAN BEATEN BY PAIR

Donnie Miller of 207 Madison Ave., Madison, told police here last week that two men beat his face with their fists. The incident occurred while the victim was riding in a car with the men in front of 201 Madison Ave. Miller was treated at the St. Elizabeth Medical Center Emergency Room.

Residents of GC's 6th ward to meet

Persons living in Granite City's Sixth Ward are being invited to attend a meeting at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Jan. 8, at Frohardt School, 2040 Johnson Road.

According to Alderman Woodrow "Woody" Moad, the meeting will include a committee report on planning and zoning and a question-and-answer period will follow.

After the business meeting, refreshments of coffee and cake will be served to those in attendance.

DUI actions

Recent arrests alleging driving under the influence of alcohol (DUI) included:

— Steven R. Arnold, 26, of 2920 National Ave., was arrested last week by Illinois State Police at the intersection of Routes 203 and 162.

— Richard T. Means, 31, of St. Louis, arrested on Illinois Route 3, about one-quarter mile north of West Ponton Road, at 2:40 a.m. Sunday. Officer said Means' auto was sitting in the median with the engine running, headlights on and the doors locked. After being awakened, Means declined to take a breathalyzer test.

Fetter receives prison sentence

Madison County Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill has ordered 19-year-old Fetter to serve 28 months in prison and pay $90 in court costs on a Madison residential burglary conviction.

Fetter, of Rural Route Two, Granite City, entered a guilty plea Sept. 13, 1984, to the Nov. 17, 1983, charge.

Possession charge dismissed by county

A charge of unlawful possession of a controlled substance against David Cortez, 1930 Benton St., has been dismissed on a motion by Madison County prosecutors.

A March 28, 1983, Madison County accusation had alleged that Cortez, 28, possessed amphetamines.

WARRANTS ARE SERVED

Shirley O. Willis, 50, of 2221 Lee Ave., was arrested at 1 p.m. Wednesday at an address in the 1700 block of Edison Avenue on active warrants alleging failure to appear in court on charges of leaving the scene of an accident, driving while her license was revoked and with not having valid registration for her vehicle.

SPLATTER EGGS ON AUTO AND DWELLING

Ted Kuberski, 1628 Ferguson Ave., told police at 12:35 a.m. Sunday that vandals threw eggs at his 1983 auto, damaging the paint, while the vehicle was parked in the 2000 block of Ponton Road.

Upon arriving home, Kuberski found his residence also had been splattered with eggs. He notified the Madison County Sheriff's Department about the latter incident, he said.

SERVE NON-APPEARANCE WARRANT ON YOUTH, 15

After receiving a complaint of a loud party taking place at 2:40 a.m. Sunday, officers went to an address in the 3100 block of Kirkpatrick Homes and found a 15-year-old Granite City youth, who did not live at that address, asleep on the couch.

A warrant alleging failure to appear in court on an assault charge was served on the juvenile, who was released into the custody of his stepfather at 6 a.m. Sunday when a $102 cash bond was posted.

NEW MADISON MAYOR. Madison Alderman Thomas Gordon addresses the standing-room-only crowd in the Madison City Council chambers Friday night. He was selected as the acting mayor after Mike Sasyk resigned the post. Members of Gordon's family, in background, were on hand for the council meeting.

tradition that the elder alderman be chosen to serve as mayor for the interim period.

Sasyk replied, "That is not true and never has been. We have never followed that rule."

THE MOTION to name Gordon acting mayor carried, with negative votes cast by Aldermen Don Garrett, Charles Rockett and Chris Costoff. All aldermen were present and the other six voted for Gordon.

In accepting the appointment, Gordon said, "I will support and do everything in my power to uphold the dignity of the office that has been entrusted to me and that is vital to the community. I give my best to the mayor and thank him for a job well done, and I thank all of you for your support."

"I also want, at this time, to announce that the Madison Fire Department will install fire detectors in homes for a $10 fee, which includes installation. For those who cannot afford the charge, they will be installed free by the firemen."

"FUNDS FOR this project were raised by the firemen in various events. They will purchase the first 100 detectors and hope monies will be donated to buy all they need for this program. I commend the chief and his men for implementing such a program for the community," Gordon concluded.

To apply for the installation of smoke detectors, residents are advised to call the office of the fire chief, Gordon added.

At the close of the meeting, Mayor Sasyk said Gordon will be sworn in at the next meeting on Jan. 15.

Plans for major racetrack of gasoline, restaurants and taverns, as well as in the employment sector, the council unanimously agreed to the resolution.

CONSTRUCTION on the raceway has begun and both representatives of the St. Louis company said they expect it to be open within 60 days.

According to the mayor, he received information on a similar raceway in Springfield, Ill. He told the council that in a three-day event in Springfield there were 117,000 people in attendance and $7 million to $9 million was spent during that weekend.

The city of Madison is continuing its efforts in annex the truckstop and salvage yards along Route 203 near the raceway, the mayor concluded.

Stress can cause trees to develop disease, die

by Ralph Eads
District Forester

Stress triggers many tree diseases. Stress on trees is hard to define because it can be caused by many factors. It can be too much water, not enough water, too much soil compaction, repeated attacks by insects or minor diseases, mechanical damage—mower, axe, wire, nails—hot summers or cold winters, to name a few. It is hard to pick one specific factor.

Lawn trees are continually under stress because most trees were not designed to be planted there. Nice sod lawns prevent water and nutrients from getting to the roots as in a forest situation. The tree is isolated and has to withstand repeated onslaughts of insects and adverse weather conditions. A forest tree is protected and shares its problems with its neighbors. Trees do die in a forest, but there are so many trees that it goes unnoticed. However, when one tree dies in a yard of six trees, you notice its demise.

Lawn trees should be well cared for to help ensure a healthy tree. Even with care, however, trees will die. It is a part of the natural process. Trees are no different than humans; they sprout, grow, age, lose limbs, have sickness, mature and sometimes die young, even with excellent health. Trees also die for unexplained reasons, but most of the time death can be attributed to one or two factors. These factors may not be present at the time of death, but they are the reasons for its demise.

year until dead. Most landowners will not want to admit that they caused the tree to die back when they built their house, but this was the reason. There is very little you can do for a tree that is damaged in this way. By the time you finally notice the limbs dying, it already is too late.

A well cared for tree is one that is kept pruned of dead branches, has its wounds cleaned and sanitized, is not damaged by mowers, cars or people, is fertilized at least once every five years, and is sprayed for insects when necessary. Again, please remember that even though these are done a tree can die from factors you may not be aware of.

One of the biggest problems with trees dying in new subdivisions in forest lands is the damage to the trees, roots and soil during construction. A tree can be healthy looking for five years or more, then begin to lose one or two limbs each

The best way to save a tree is to protect it during construction. This means the entire ground area under the crown area of the tree is protected from vehicular traffic and no dirt added or taken away. If this can't be done, you might as well plan on eventually replacing the tree.

There is so much more that goes into caring for your trees that can't be covered here. However, additional information on tree care, of tree problems—insect or disease—is available by contacting the cooperative extension office in your county, or your Department of Conservation district forester.

WOULD-BE THEIF FLEES

Larry White, 2111 Louisa St., looked outdoors early last week and saw a man inside his parked auto. Suddenly, the man got out of White's car and jumped into another vehicle which was parked nearby with someone seated behind the wheel. The auto with the men inside quickly left the scene, police were advised. Nothing was reported to be missing.

ARREST AFTER COLLISION

Eugenia M. Hildreth, 23, of 3805 Kirkpatrick Homes was arrested for failing to give information upon striking an unattended vehicle Thursday. Police had her car towed from Kirkpatrick after, alleging that it had just backed against a parked auto owned by Roseline Turner, 408 Kirkpatrick, on service station property at 3024 Nameoki Road.

Charge of contacting witness is dismissed

Madison County charges of communicating with a juror or witness in a trial have been dismissed against Robert Coble, 2832 Missouri Ave., and Laura Boker, 2404 Illinois Ave. The charges were filed in September.

The 28-year-old woman was accused of contacting a witness involved in the arrest of a sexual abuse suspect.

AIR CONDITIONER GONE

Leticia Pritchard told police at 12:45 p.m. Sunday that while helping her brother move from 609 Salveter Ave., Venice, she returned to the dwelling and found someone had split the door frame, entered the house and stole a $3,000 BTU window air conditioner from a rear bedroom.

Glik's merchandise sold, reopening set

Glik's Department Store merchandise damaged by smoke from a Dec. 26 fire at the Belmore Village Shopping Center has been sold to two out-of-state companies.

According to Bob Glik, companies from Mississippi and Massachusetts outbid Glik's for the purchase of the clothing; therefore, there will be no sale on smoke-damaged merchandise at the store.

Glik says reopening plans still call for some remodeling of the store and an opening by Feb. 1 with new spring merchandise.

$500 fine ordered in sexual abuse case

Jerry Gibson, 36, of 2683 Missouri Ave. has been ordered to pay a $500 fine and $50 in special costs for his conviction on an aggravated criminal sexual abuse charge filed Sept. 24.

Madison County Circuit Judge P. J. O'Neill set the fine after Gibson pleaded guilty to the charge Nov. 9.

The charge followed a police investigation of a man who allegedly was involved in the decision of a girl, age 15, to stay overnight at a motel.

Jail term for theft, burglary

Madison County Circuit Judge P. J. O'Neill has ordered 18-year-old Steven Howland of Westgate Drive, Pontoon Beach, to serve six months in the county jail and 30 months of probation for convictions on burglary and theft charges.

Howland also was ordered to pay $85 in court costs following his guilty plea Dec. 10.

A felony theft charge was filed against Howland Oct. 16 after an investigation by Pontoon Beach police, while the burglary charge was filed Nov. 14 following an investigation by Granite City police.

Conditional discharge given to GC residents

Madison County Circuit Judge Philip J. Harick has just placed two Granite City residents on one-year conditional discharge. The case was handled by the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation.

Judy Penoglio, 37, of 2520 Circle Drive was charged Sept. 14, 1983, with felony theft and pleaded guilty Dec. 10, 1984, to petty theft.

Dimitrios Michailidis, 49, of 3019 Marshall Ave. was accused Sept. 7, 1983, of felony theft and pleaded guilty Dec. 10, 1984, to the reduced charge of petty theft.

VENICE MAN IS CHARGED WITH FELONY THEFT

Everett Vencarlos Smith, 17, of 315r Weaver St., Venice, was charged with felony theft (over $300), after Venice police allegedly observed him attempting to steal a vehicle.

Smith was arrested last week in the 1000 block of Calhoun Street. A juvenile accomplice was also taken into custody at the time.

RECEIVES PROBATION ON GC BURGLARY CONVICTION

Doy A. Cuthright, 17, of 3801 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach, has been placed on 18-month probation and ordered to pay $80 in court costs after his guilty plea Dec. 3 to an Oct. 1 charge of burglary.

The investigation was by Granite City police. Madison County Circuit Judge P. J. O'Neill presided over the sentencing last month.

Charge women after incident at GC home

Three Granite City women were arrested at 11:20 p.m. Friday when Judy Holmes of the 1700 block of Cleveland Boulevard alleged the trio came to her residence and battered her daughter, 16, and damaged items in the house.

Charged with battery and criminal damage to property were Aimee S. Hedrick, 25, of 1739 Edison Ave., Doris M. Chamness, 18, of 1739 Edison Ave., and Diana P. Ezell, 17, of 2613 Missouri Ave.

Mrs. Holmes said she was called home from work by her daughter who alleged the three women and a youth, believed to be about 13, came into the house and the women began hitting her with their fists.

In the scuffle, two glass doors on china cabinet were damaged, along with a mirror, it was alleged. A glass pane in a side door also was damaged. Officers noted there was considerable broken glass throughout the apartment.

While Aimee Hedrick woman was released after posting a $104 cash bond, the other two women were lodged in jail.

BURGLAR GETS YULE GIFTS

A burglar took a $121 cassette stereo and a $100 cassette radio and looted the Christmas tree last week at the home of Joe Lemis, 2021 17th Ave. Taken from the tree display were an unopened holiday gift, a $20 light blue sweater, a blue satin jacket, fur-lined gloves worth $10, an $8 music cassette and about $3 in coins.

MICROPHONE, TIRE TAKEN

A $250 microphone was stolen last week from the stage area at Charlie's Restaurant, Nameoki Road and Madison Avenue. In unrelated cases, intruders ransacked two home garages in the 2600 block of Cleveland Boulevard and stole the spare tire from the parked van of Henry Burns, 2607 Cleveland.

School fund stability sought

Proposals to streamline the property tax assessment system and add stability to school district budgeting are among preliminary recommendations that complete State Superintendent of Education Donald G. Glik's package for comprehensive school finance reform.

Public hearings on those recommendations will be conducted by the State Board of Education, Wednesday in Springfield and Jan. 23 in Chicago. Many of the recommendations would require legislative action this spring.

One recommendation would allow school districts to establish levies using the previous year's equalized assessed valuation (EAV) for property in the district.

CURRENTLY, THE STATE uses the prior-year EAV to determine general state aid for districts, while the calendar-year EAV is used to determine local revenues. In 1984-85, for example, the state is using 1982 EAV to determine general aid for districts while local revenues are generated according to 1983 EAV.

Use of the prior-year EAV to determine both state and local revenue for schools would prevent districts from experiencing windfalls or losses that occur because of changes in property values from year to year, Dr. Glik said. Using the same year, a gain or loss in local revenue due to changes in the EAV would be balanced by a respective loss or gain in state funds.

Such use of the prior EAV also would remove uncertainty in local budgeting that comes from basing budgets on the estimated calendar year EAV, he added.

ANOTHER CHANGE would require all counties to use the accelerated billing method of property tax collection to help stabilize cash flow for districts.

Initial collections would be made in the first quarter of the year and distributions to districts would be made quarterly.

To increase equity in property assessment, the recommendations call for assessment to be centralized at the county level and standardized according to state guidelines. State officials' enforcement powers also would be increased to ensure that the guidelines are followed.

ALSO AMONG recommendations to generate revenue for schools is a proposal to allow Chicago to tax for transportation and Downstate districts to tax for textbooks. Chicago currently can tax for textbooks and Downstate districts for transportation, but neither can tax for both.

Other recommendations based on the board's Illinois Public School Finance Project would:

— Seek increased state funding for education from non-earmarked funds.

— SUPPORT EXPANSION of current state grants to provide property tax relief but oppose general property tax reductions or exemptions.

— Give unit districts equal access in all funds to the combined maximum tax rates for elementary and high school districts.

— Take steps to prevent school districts from incurring excessive short-term debt.

— REQUIRE THAT the name or number of the school district in which property is located be included on the transfer declaration when the property is sold.

Improve requirements for publication of financial data for school districts, to make published data more meaningful.

— Provide that the State Board continue developing and improving financial planning, analysis and monitoring systems for districts.

THE SPRINGFIELD hearing will be from 3 to 5 p.m. Wednesday in the board room (fourth floor) of the State Board office, 100 N. 1st St. The Chicago hearing will be from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Buckingham Room (first floor) at the Americana Congress Hotel, 520 N. Michigan Ave.

Those who wish to testify will be taken in the order in which they register. Registration sheets will be available 30 minutes before the hearing.

Oral testimony will be limited to five minutes, but written testimony of any length will be accepted. Participants are to bring 10 copies of their testimony to the hearing.

NOW YOU CAN HAVE A RETIREMENT PLAN THAT'S BETTER THAN THE GOVERNMENT'S.

By the time you retire, if you have to depend on Social Security alone, your golden years are not going to be very colorful.

But now you can start your own retirement plan where you bank, even if you're already covered by another retirement plan where you work.

It's called an Individual Retirement Account, or IRA, and it's available to just about everybody who works.

Each year, you can contribute a tax-deductible portion of your income to the plan, and we'll pay you interest.

The best part is that even the interest is not taxable until you retire (when you're likely to be in a much lower tax bracket) or until you withdraw funds from your account.

So come by to see us soon, and get all the details on our IRA.

Because helping you plan for the future is a part of our commitment to excellence in everything we do.

And we think it makes more sense for you to put your hard-earned money in an IRA than give it to the IRS.

Warriors run away from Kahoks; win 64-52

Undefeated In Conference Games

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

COLLINSVILLE — There's a certain mystique about playing the Collinsville Kahoks' basketball team. There is a tradition in rich with basketball talent both past and present.

Couple that mystique with the roominess of its Vergil Fletcher Gymnasium with its chrome basketball standards aloft, and it can be quite intimidating.

That is of course unless it's Friday night, and you happen to be the visiting Granite City High Warriors, co-leaders in the Southwestern Conference.

ON THIS Friday night, the Warriors, with a basketball tradition of their own, did a little evening up with the Kahoks. It was the Warriors' turn at victory. Their turn to do the intimidating.

On this night, neither the speedy Kahoks nor their palace-like gymnasium with its arena-like mid-court suspended scoreboard would sway the Warriors from their appointed rendezvous with victory.

On this night, the Warriors would win. Win big they did, 64-52. Granite City won because they played Coach Don Deterding's game. They played his unflinching defense and they finally played the type of offense he's been preaching all season long.

They played superbly.

THE WARRIORS won because more than any other time this season, they played a complete ball game.

During the first quarter, Warrior fans witnessed their teams most productive quarter offensively. 20 points. But as if that wasn't satisfying enough, those fans were also treated to the Warriors' best defensive effort in a single quarter.

While cashing in on a banana and racking up 20 points of its own, Granite City held Collinsville to a mere five points in the initial stanza.

Best offensive and defensive effort of the season, and they both arrived in the same quarter of the same game. It was enough so Deterding could sit back, comfortably on the bench, while Kahok Coach Gene Catalpa sat on the edge of his seat shaking his head in disgust.

IT'S PRETTY hard to come back after getting as far behind as we did in that first quarter," Catalpa said. "We attempted a comeback in the second and third quarters, but we just couldn't get over the hump. We just couldn't convert when we needed to most."

Assessing the Kahoks and their lackluster play in the early going, Catalpa said his team may have suffered a letdown following their second-place finish in their own holiday basketball tournament Saturday, Dec. 29.

"Who knows what goes on in the minds of kids their age. It's hard to explain. We didn't change any X's and O's when we started getting back in it. We just began to play with more intensity."

"Granite City deserved to win. We don't have any alibis," Catalpa said. NOT HAVING "any alibis" included refraining from being critical of the officiating. In fact, the Kahok coach went on to praise the referees.

"This was the best officiating we've had all season. I sincerely mean that, and I hope you'll include that," Catalpa said. That was quite a compliment considering two Kahoks — La Roy Linder and Tony Ellis — fouled out in the fourth quarter.

While Catalpa and the Kahoks were realizing their defeat, there was a party going on at the end of the floor — a party that began during the first quarter of the ball game and lasted to midway through the second quarter and then resumed in the waning minutes of the ball game.

It was a Warrior celebration.

there and do my thing. Joe's (Gray) the leader. He's the one who does all the directing. He's the team leader. My job's to go out there and try to be the best I can — try to contribute the best way I can."

There wasn't any doubt that he did that Friday.

WITH STEVANUS' efforts and that of Jeff Gray (20 points), the Warriors played like they deserve to be

"We had some great individual efforts, but all around this was a team effort. We did the things that we're supposed to be doing all along. The things that you do to win."

Don Deterding
Warrior basketball coach

"WE HAD some great individual efforts, but all around this was a team effort," Deterding said afterwards. We did the things that we're supposed to be doing all along. The things that you do to win."

And as for Granite City's initial quarter, the one which saw the Warriors take a commanding lead they never relinquished.

"For all intents and purposes, the game was won in that first quarter," Deterding said. "All we had to do after that was figure a way to keep from blowing it."

THE MANNER in which the Warriors avoided "blowing it" can be directly attributed to some fine individual performances amidst the fine team effort. And, that's where Deterding started dishing out the individual praise.

Six-foot 2-inch senior Jeb Blasigame really helped us out down the stretch, when we needed him."

Deterding said. "He came in, there and played a superb ball game." Blasigame entered the ball game at the start of the third quarter, when the Warrior lead had already slipped to six, 42-37. With his help, the Warriors improved upon that lead, eventually winning by 12 points.

"Jeb knows how he can best serve this team. He's a good passer and that's what we needed at the time. He really came through for us."

Blasigame entered the game as the Kahoks were attempting a comeback when they were forcing Warrior turnovers.

IN ADDITION to Blasigame, Deterding praised the Warrior big man, 6-foot 9-inch senior center Don Stevanus. In a pre-game interview, Deterding said if the Warriors were to beat the Kahoks, Stevanus had to play well.

Well, Stevanus didn't let Deterding or his teammates down. The towering Warrior was excellent in the victory, contributing 18 points.

"Beating Collinsville doesn't sound great. I love the way that sounds," Stevanus said leaning against the wall outside the locker room.

"MY BEST game? Without question," Stevanus said. "I really had fun out there tonight. I've been learning a lot. So I've really had to concentrate on playing. But tonight was fun. We went out there and really took it to them."

When it comes to feeling the pressure of a big game, Stevanus was as diplomatic as he was good.

"A team leader? No, I just go out conference leaders. The victory puts the Warriors ahead in the SWC with a 2-0 league slate. The Kahoks dropped to 2-1 while Alton is the only other undefeated SWC team with a 1-0 record.

In short, they really took it to the Kahoks the first 11 minutes of play, before Collinsville began to come to life midway through the second quarter. Three minutes into the second quarter, the Warriors enjoyed a 26-point lead, 31-5.

THAT'S WHEN Catalpa called his second timeout of the ball and the Kahoks began to put some points on the board.

By halftime, the Kahoks had surged to close to within 14 points, 35-21. Collinsville continued its resurgence as it outscored the Warriors 16-7 in the third quarter, trimming the Warrior lead to five, 42-37.

But that's when things began to turn in favor of the Warriors again. Blasigame made some sure passes. Stevanus sank a handful underneath including a crowd-pleasing stuff with 40 second left in the game, and Jeff Gray returned to his sharp-shooting ways.

GRANITE CITY regained its momentum in the final stanza and managed to outperform even their first quarter offense. The Warriors mustered 22 points in the final quarter, outscoring the Kahoks by seven to preserve the win.

As much as the Warriors dominated the varsity contest, it didn't stack up to the manner in which the junior varsity swept their contest.

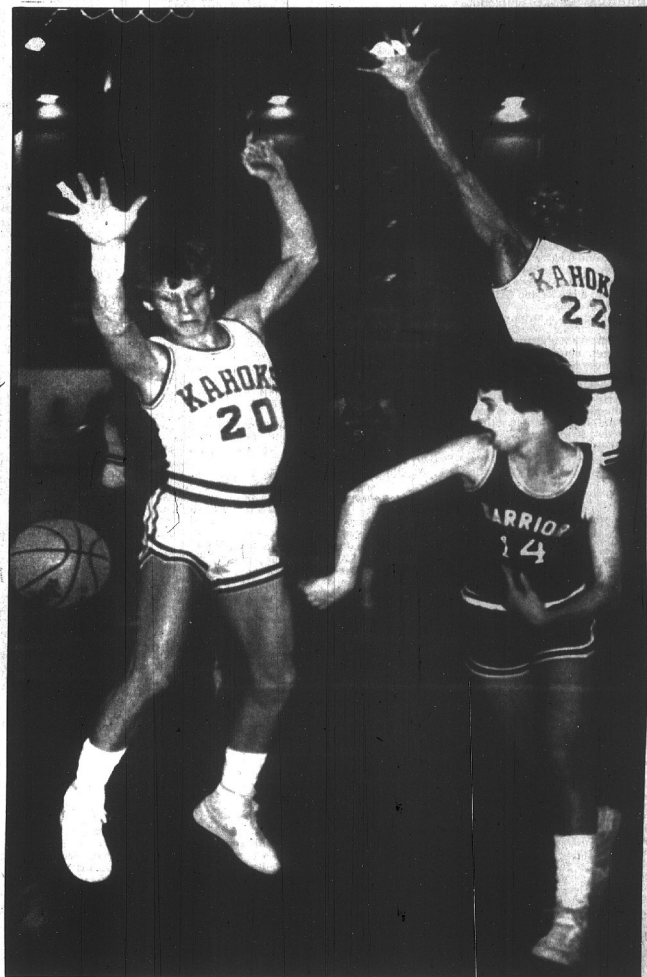

Paced by Tim Hogan, who played just three quarters, the Jayvee Warriors bested the Kahok counterparts by 30 points, 66-36.

Granite City will take on another SWC foe this Friday at 6:15 p.m. as East St. Louis seniors come to town. The varsity contest will begin at 8 p.m. after the Jayvee contest.

Beat MELH Knights Devils drop the Knights; get back on winning track

By CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

VENICE — At least half a dozen fans took the little extra effort Friday night to walk over to Venice coach Clinton Harris and offer congratulations for the 77-57 victory over Metro-East Lutheran.

The words of praise weren't new to Harris. Just absent for a week. The Red Devils' last contest, a one-point loss Dec. 29 to Waterloo-Gibault in the Freeburg-Columbia Holiday Tournament, ended their undefeated status while Friday's victory brought the team back to the winning ways.

"WE MADE up our mind to get back on track and play good defense," said Harris. "We had fewer reaching fouls than we usually do. But we still were missing our free throws."

The Red Devils were a lowly five for 12 from the charity stripe, but not as poor as the Knights' one for seven. The game was physical, as evident by the 30 fouls called during the contest.

Perhaps Venice was a bit too aggressive for Metro-East Lutheran coach Ed Sievers.

"We were probably not accustomed to the offensive aggressiveness," admitted Sievers. "It seemed we were always a step behind."

SUCH WAS the case late in the ball game when Knights' defender David Rhodes found himself behind Venice's Jesse Hall, who had a clear path for a slam dunk. When Hall made the slam and Rhodes was whistled for a foul, Sievers gave the referee a piece of his mind. The referee gladly returned the favor, charging Sievers with a technical foul.

"He was clearly hanging on the rim," said Sievers after the game. "The referee didn't call it. It's as simple as that."

Not so, according to Harris. "I don't think he was hanging on the rim," said Harris. "There's also a new rule this year that if you're going for a dunk and the defender undercuts you, you can hang on the rim for your own safety."

HALL lived the pace for the Red Devils earlier in the game when he scored on a slam dunk for the first two points in the second half. The 6-foot-2 sophomore led the Red Devils with 18 points in the game, followed by Victor Jackson with 17, Charles Milton with 12 and Ed Ware with 11.

"We had the opportunities for the fast breaks and took them," said Harris. "We had some hard practices these past few days. It paid off tonight."

The dominance of strength and stamina didn't take effect until after a quarter. The Knights recorded a 14-14 tie after the first quarter, but the rest of the ball game belonged to the Red Devils.

"WE FELT we could play with them," said Sievers. "We stood right with them in the beginning. But we're not as physical as they are. We're young and we're going to get tougher. Plus Venice is an awfully fine ball club, especially at home."

Harris blamed the first-quarter tie to mistakes.

"I counted seven turnovers in the first five minutes," said Harris. "They were rushing, trying to move before they got the ball. They all wanted to score."

"I told them it'll come. But you have to have the ball first."

VENICE upped its record to 11-1, while Metro-East Lutheran dropped to 5-8. The Red Devils next opponent will be the Missouri Class 4A runner-up, Vashon, in a contest slated for Tuesday. Vashon, incidentally, won the 4A championship in 1985.

"It's going to be a tough game," said Harris. "And it's going to be there, too. They call it 'The Pit.'"

The junior varsity game is slated to begin at 6 p.m., with the varsity contest starting immediately afterward.

Meramec matmen pin Stars

GRANITE CITY — With four forfeits, the dual wrestling meet between Granite City Center and Meramec Community College on Saturday morning didn't last long. Three of the four forfeits belonged to the Stars, but the match belonged to Meramec 33-17.

After forfeiting the 118-pound match, the Stars sent Chuck Gardner out to face Meramec's Gary Dundon. Gardner made quick work of Dundon, sticking the Meramec 126-pounder just 1:01 into the first period. "They (Granite City) have a tough kid at 126," said Meramec coach Ron Mirikitani of Gardner. "He wrestled very well."

GRANITE CITY'S Mike Trogovich picked up five more points for the Stars, as he decimated Tom Pruneau in the 134-pound class 14-2, but that was all the winners Granite City could come with.

Meramec's Dan Davis defeated Jeff Krause 15-6 in the 142-pound class, while Doug Reeve shut out Granite City's Ken Paterson 15-0 at the 150 weight.

In the 158 class Meramec's Mike Reeve edged Darren Lindsey in a hard-fought match, and 167 pound Jim Alfano pinned Granite City's Henry Brown at the 1:09 mark of the second period.

THE FINAL six points for the Stars came in the 174-pound class, but Granite City conceded the 190 and heavyweight bouts.

"When you have to give away that many points, it really hurts, especially in a dual meet," Stars' coach Walt Whitaker said. "It's different in a tournament because you can make it up with place winners."

"I don't think we were going to beat Meramec today anyway, but the holiday layoff showed up in the way we wrestled," the Stars' coach said.

"I thought that Gardner and Trogovich wrestled well. They did an outstanding job," Whitaker said.

THE SMALL size of the squad and this being only the second year of the program at Granite City Center is making it a difficult season for the Stars.

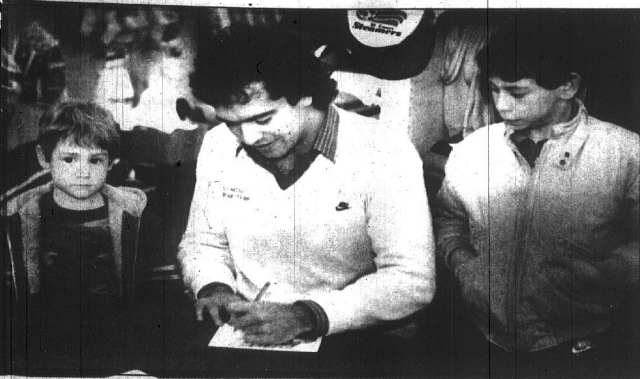

"Our biggest problem is that we don't have any depth," said Whitaker.

Cougars win indoor tournament

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The Cougars of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville won the Budweiser Collegiate Invitational Indoor Soccer Tournament at Soccer For Fun here in competition Friday and Saturday.

Eight colleges were entered. In addition to SIUE, there were Creighton U., Florissant Valley, Forest Park, Rockhurst College of Kansas City, Lewis & Clark, the University of Evansville and Meramec.

In first round action Friday, Flc Valley battered Creighton, 6-1; SIUE rallied after being down 0-2 to defeat Forest Park, 4-2; Rockhurst College turned back Lewis & Clark in probably the tournament's hardest-fought game, 5-4 in a sudden death shootout and in the evening's final game, Evansville edged Meramec, 2-1.

In the losers round Saturday, Creighton blasted Forest Park, 6-2, to gain the right to play Meramec in the final. Meramec slipped by Lewis & Clark, 3-2.

In the semi-final games starting at noon Saturday, SIUE knocked off Forest Park, 4-2. In the other semi, Evansville romped, pass the Rockhurst College Hawks, 5-1.

In the championship final at 8 p.m. Saturday night, Coach Bob Guelker's SIUE kickers were awesome as they almost demolished Evansville, 7-0.

Bruce Bellinger opened the SIUE scoring in the first period. John Gates and John Stone scored single goals in the second period.

In the third and final period, the Cougars' offense was a wonderous thing to see. Bill Stallings got it started for SIUE in the third period by scoring a pair of goals in less than three minutes. G. P. Boyer blasted in the period's third goal and Stone posted his second of the game with just 43 seconds left on the clock.

Fred Johnson, meet manager, said there would be another college journey at Soccer For Fun on the weekend of March 15 and 16.

which will be played at the McCambridge Street diamond, is $250 for both the men's and the women's teams.

YMCA begins scuba classes

The Tri-City Area YMCA will begin a scuba diving class on Saturdays, 4 to 10 p.m., Jan. 12 through Feb. 16. Individuals 15 years or older can receive a junior certification, and 11 year olds can receive a skin divers certification. Participants must be at least 11 years of age.

Phil Lamm will conduct the Saturday classes. Three hours will include classroom time and three hours will be spent in the pool. Students must have basic water skills. Students will need to supply suits, towels, notebook, and after the first week a mask, fins, and snorkel.

The fee is $60 for physical members, $65 for participating members, and $75 for non-members.

For more information contact the YMCA at 876-7200.

Farm Bureau bowling tourney at Bowland

The Madison County Farm Bureau County Bowling Tournament will be held at the Bowland Lanes in Granite City on Saturday, Jan. 26, at 9:30 a.m. and Saturday, Feb. 2, at 9:30 a.m.

The District Tournament will be held Feb. 16 at the Belle-Air Bowl, 1703 N. Bell West in Belleville.

Outdoor Corner

For Ducks, Geese

Mild weather, availability of food contribute to poor harvest

SPRINGFIELD — Except for a brief flurry of good shooting in the early going, the recently concluded 1984 Illinois waterfowl hunting season saw fewer ducks and geese harvested than at any time in recent history, concluded Dennis Thornburg, Department of Conservation chief waterfowl biologist.

Mild weather probably explains the poor goose harvest which Thornburg described as a short-term phenomenon. On the other hand, he sees the poor duck hunting season as a reflection of an on-going problem. Mallard numbers, for instance, were at the lowest level in three decades.

"I think that there is a good chance that we will see more restrictive regulations for duck hunting by next season," Thornburg said. "These will be formulated by the Mississippi Flyway Council, in cooperation with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, during the July, 1985 meeting."

Aerial inventories of the four-county Canada goose quota-zone — consisting of Union, Williamson, Jackson and Alexander counties in extreme southern Illinois — revealed a peak migration of 135,000 geese. Normally, Thornburg explained the area would hold up to 250,000 geese on, or before Dec. 1.

Hunter success suffered in direct ratio. For the first time since 1973, the gross hunters in the quota zone failed to reach the harvest ceiling set by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. When hunting season, ended Dec. 6, an estimated 14,500 birds — about 3,000 short of the quota — were harvested.

Goose harvests in the remainder of the state also were down, according to reports by DOC field staff and sportsmen's groups. Rend Lake near Benton, one of the state's three large reservoirs, experienced poor hunter success even though the site has been a waterfowl hotspot in the past.

Extremely mild fall weather is thought to explain the decline in migrating Canada geese in Illinois, Thornburg said. Wildlife biologists with the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources report that hundreds of thousands of Canada geese have never left Horizon Marsh and other large refuge areas.

"There really has been no need for them to continue flying south," Thornburg said. "The mild weather, plenty of food, and a short hunting season in Wisconsin were all factors that kept the birds from pushing on in the numbers normally seen."

There is a bright side to the picture, Thornburg explained that the low harvest in 1984 should be very beneficial to future Canada goose populations. In the recent past, he said, Illinois has inadvertently overharvested the Canada goose populations.

"Monitoring hunter harvests is a difficult task," he said. "In the quota-zone, we have the ability to closely control the harvest. This is hunter success in the first two of the respective seasons in the three zones but that dropped off markedly."

This was not surprising since the peak duck population along the Illinois and Mississippi rivers was the lowest since aerial surveys began three decades ago, Thornburg said. The peak mallard population in 1984 was 420,825 mallards, approximately 20 percent less than the 1983 peak

"There really has been no need for them to continue flying south. The mild weather, plenty of food, and a short hunting season in Wisconsin were all factors that kept the birds pushing on in the numbers normally seen."

Dennis Thornburg
Dept. of Conservation

just not possible in the rest of the state. And, in recent years, "the changing migration patterns of the birds has led to underestimating the harvest."

An excellent case in point is Rend Lake, he said.

"This area has been attracting far more Canada geese than in past years. As a result, the harvest was much higher than anticipated," Thornburg said.

And, to keep the picture in perspective, one should remember that overharvesting has been widespread throughout states in the Mississippi Flyway. It is not just an Illinois problem, Thornburg said.

Last year, we estimated that a 27,000 statewide harvest would be ideal," he said. "This figure would provide hunting opportunities without sacrificing the resource. Unfortunately, the actual harvest was significantly higher. The DOC estimates it at around 32,000 while the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service came up with a 44,000 figure. The truth is probably in between."

Thornburg said DOC has initiated efforts to eliminate overharvest. The season has been shortened from 40 days to 20 days, the daily bag limit for hunters outside the quota-zone has been reduced from two to one bird, and the DOC agreed with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service's decision to lower the harvest ceiling in the quota-zone.

Thornburg was much less optimistic regarding the Illinois duck population. Poor hunting this year in a continuation of a long-term trend, he said. There was fair to good of 514,580, and far blow the all-time record of 2,376,365 recorded in 1978. Thornburg attributed the drastic decline to the degradation or disappearance of waterfowl habitat across the North America. He said siltation in the formerly water-rich Illinois River valley wiped out the aquatic vegetation which provided food for thousands of waterfowl in past years.

Wintering habitat further south, has also been severely eroded, he added. In particular, the loss of Delta hardwoods in Arkansas and other southern states has been a very negative development. And in the Canadian breeding grounds, droughts and increased agricultural development have left their marks.

The later flights of mallards, which normally account for the lion's share of the harvest, never really arrived.

"This was not unexpected," Thornburg said. "We had predicted a disappointing mallard migration due to poor production tied directly to droughts in the nesting areas in western Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta." These areas have been subject to drought in four of the last five years.

Henson is winningest

Hearings set on zoning pleas for landfill and a borrow pit

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will conduct three on-site public zoning hearings in Quad-City area townships Thursday.

The first hearing will begin at 9:30 a.m. Thursday on Route 111 at its intersection with Interstate 55-70, in Nameoki Township. Barbara J. Trider and/or Linda Pohlmann, owners of the property, and TPL, LTD., a corporation leasing the property, are requesting a special use permit to establish a natural material landfill in this agricultural district. Attorney Douglas J. Antonio represents TPL, LTD.

The second hearing will begin at 9:45 a.m. Thursday at the same location on the request from the same parties to develop the landfill in a flood hazard area.

At 1 p.m. Thursday, the zoning board will meet approximately 800 feet east of the intersection of Bend Road and the old frontage road, where Apolun, Ross and Funk, P.C. is requesting a special use permit to operate a borrow pit. The company is represented by Attorney Samuel P. Ross Jr. The property is zoned M-

2 for general manufacturing purposes. After the hearings, the zoning board will meet in the Madison County Courthouse in Edwardsville to determine its recommendations. Final action on those recommendations will be taken by the Madison County Board at its Jan. 16 meeting.

Anthony Buckingham and Pamela Clutts

Clutts-Buckingham

The engagement and forthcoming wedding of Miss Pamela J. Clutts and Anthony W. Buckingham, is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clutts, 1443 Grand Ave.

Parents of the prospective groom, Mr. and Mrs. John Buckingham, reside 1740 Courtney Blvd.

Miss Clutts is a 1982 graduate of Granite City High School South and is employed at Ravenskill's Restaurant.

The groom-elect is working at Godfather's Pizza and is a 1975 graduate of Granite City High School North.

They are planning an August wedding.

First child arrives for Mr., Mrs. Vaughn

Chad Wayne Vaughn is the name selected by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Vaughn, Collinsville, for their first child born on Dec. 28 at Oliver C. Anderson Hospital in Maryville.

The new arrival weighed 6 pounds, 3 1/2 ounces. Mrs. Vaughn is the former Mauria Dean of Granite City.

Grandparents include Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Vaughn of Collinsville and Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Dean Sr. of Granite City.

Great-grandparents are Mrs. Daisy Dean and Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Hayes, all of Granite City, and Mrs. Grace Vaughn of Collinsville.

Hartwick-Feeler

The wedding of Miss Sandra Lynn Feeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Feeler, 3311 Franklin Ave., and Perry Joe Hartwick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hartwick, 624 Ashland Ave., Mitchell, was solemnized on Nov. 3 at St. Joseph Catholic Church. Officiating at the 2 o'clock afternoon ceremony was the Rev. Gary Perret. Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Cleta Judd at the organ and Tina Goucher and Greg Mason, soloists.

The bride was escorted down the white carpeted aisle by her father and given in marriage by her parents.

Guests were received by the newlywed couple at a reception hosted at Polish Hall in Madison.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Pody Eaton and bridesmaids included, Amy Kenken, Carol West, Brandy Turner/Connie Hawk and Terry Hodge, the latter two are cousins of the bride.

The groom chose Randy Brown as best man, Bryan, David, Jeff and Tim Hartwick, brothers of the groom, and Jim West, a cousin of the groom, were groomsmen.

Seating the guests were Rich Brown, Kevin Buchanan and Jeff DeMott.

Robbie Feeler, a nephew of the bride, was the ringbearer and serving as candlelighters were Cindy Hodge and Tammy Feeler, both cousins of the bride. Joan Hartwick, a sister-in-law of the groom was the lecturer.

A 1979 graduate of Granite City High School South, the bride also graduated from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville with a bachelor of science degree in industrial engineering. She is now employed at Series, Inc. in St. Louis.

The groom was graduated from Granite City High School North in 1976 and Belleville Area College. He works as a welder at National Marine Service, Inc. in Hartford.

After a wedding trip to the Bahamas the newlywed couple are now residing in Granite City.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hartwick

Former local residents mark golden wedding anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Mott of Mesa, Ariz., former residents, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at a buffet dinner given at Grace Community Church in Tempe, Ariz.

Mr. Mott, a native of Granite City, moved to Edwardsville at age 22 and married the former Florence Rhoads of Edwardsville, formerly of Gillespie, in 1934.

They moved to Chester, Ill., in 1937 when he took a job as a prison guard and in 1942 returned to Granite City where he served as chief of security at the Granite City Army Installation. He retired in 1971 and in November 1983 the honorees moved to Arizona.

They are the parents of three daughters, Mrs. Carole Pohlers of Concordia, Mo., and Mrs. Jane Barsch of Mesa. Another daughter Donna Jean Mott died in 1959 at age 11. They also have six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Approximately 100 guests attended the buffet dinner and the Rev. James Rentz gave a review of their life together followed by the couple renewing their marriage vows.

Children's Mass at St. Joseph Church

St. Joseph's C.D.'s Parish School of Religion celebrated a special Children's Christmas Mass at 2 p.m., at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, 210 State St.

The celebration began with the first and second grade classes walking down the church aisle singing the hymn, "Silent Night," as they carried lighted vigil candles. As the procession reached the nativity set, the Rev. Gary Perret, M.S.F., pastor of St. Joseph's Church, blessed the nativity set after which the congregation sang the hymn, "Away In A Manger."

Special highlights of the Children's Mass included an introduction to the Liturgy of the Word, presented by the second grade class, holding letter cards, spelling the word, BIBLE, they sang and acted out the hymn, "I'm Grown Up."

Dressed in gaily-colored nativity costumes, the third, fourth and fifth grade students proceeded to re-enact the gospel reading of Luke — "The Birth of Jesus."

New office managers named in unemployment offices

New consolidated local office managers have been named by the Illinois Department of Employment Security.

"This change is part of the present move to unify Job Service and Unemployment Insurance to provide the best possible service to job seekers and employers at the least possible cost," said Richard Darenberg, Southwest Regional manager of the department. Jerome Wade became the consolidated local office manager for Granite City. Donald Hamner, former director of the Granite City office, was named consolidated local office manager in Alton and Dr. Edith Crisman, also formerly of the Granite City office, was named the acting manager of the Belleville office.

Howard Brown will serve as acting consolidated local office manager in Fairview Heights and William Sander and Mrs. Dorothy Whitehead were named permanent consolidated local office managers in East St. Louis and Edwardsville, respectively.

They began their new duties Jan. 1.

Arrest six after incident at home

Six people were arrested last week when police answered a disturbance call at a residence in the 2400 block of Washington Avenue, where the homeowner, the father of an 18-day-old infant, reported the group came to the dwelling asking for beer. None of the group was known to him, he said.

After learning there wasn't any beer the people left, but returned about an hour later and allegedly pounded on the door. A neighbor called police when it was learned a telephone wire had been cut and officers stopped a car in the 2300 block of Washington Avenue.

Charged with disorderly conduct in connection with the incident were Timothy D. Joseph, 21, of 2124 Delmar Ave., Ricky W. Vernoy, 19, of 2028 Benton St., Ronald A. Rowane, 19, of 1514 Granite Ave., John M. Stines, 22, of 1314 Granite Ave., and Rebecca J. Fordyce, 21, also of the 1300 block of Granite Avenue.

Henry Hugh Farmer, 17, of 1234 Madison Ave., Madison, was charged with a curfew violation. All were released after posting bonds.

DAMAGE AND CONDUCT CHARGES ARE FILED

Richard A. Dawson, 46, of 2207 Iowa St., was charged with disorderly conduct and criminal damage to property last week, following an incident at El Gato Tavern, 1800 Delmar Ave.

Asked to leave the tavern after reportedly seen drinking from another customer's bottle, Dawson allegedly hurled a bar stool behind the bar, breaking a gallon bottle of wine, but left when advised police were being called.

Some of the wine spilled into the computerized cash register and may have damaged the equipment, it was reported.

Dawson came into police headquarters about four hours after the episode and was charged. He was released upon posting a $104 cash bond, pending a court appearance.

Taracorp submits plans for closing storage room

A plan to close the Taracorp Industries hazardous waste dust storage bin facility has been submitted to the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

According to IEPA environmental specialist Maria Laymon, Taracorp officials must submit the plan for IEPA approval before they may begin disposing of lead waste that is being kept in a storage room at the facility in Granite City. She said Taracorp officials have expressed a desire to dispose of the waste since recycling operations at the plant have ceased.

Should the IEPA approve the plan, Taracorp officials could begin disposing of the lead waste and cleaning the room, so that it may be certified as a non-hazardous, or safe, area.

The plan consists of methods for disposing of the waste, methods for decontaminating the room and a schedule for completing the work.

Should the IEPA reject the proposed plan, Taracorp officials may submit an improved plan. Should that plan be rejected, the IEPA would require Taracorp to follow up. Taracorp, IEPA officials explained.

IEPA officials have stated that, in response to requests or at the discretion of the IEPA, a public hearing may be conducted to discuss the plan. Public notice will be issued 30 days before any public hearing, but IEPA officials say no public hearing has yet been scheduled or requested.

Utility tax deductible

Illinoisans who itemize deductions on their 1984 federal income tax returns this winter and spring may deduct their utility taxes, the Internal Revenue Service has ruled.

The aggregate saving for Illinois taxpayers is estimated at $32 million.

Gov. James R. Thompson commented Thursday, "We had argued that taxes on natural gas, electricity and telephone service should be deductible because they are similar to the general sales tax and are imposed at an identical 5 percent rate."

Taxpayers who use sales tax deduction tables can increase the amount allowed by 10 percent in order to include the utility tax deduction.

A family of four earning $25,000 could deduct an additional $33.60 from its income, using the tax table, the governor said. Those who have saved receipts to itemize sales taxes may use their utility tax receipts as well.

YMCA names new pool supervisor

Bretfni Baggot, a graduate of Granite City High School and student at Southern Illinois University, has been appointed pool supervisor at the Tri-City Area YMCA. He just completed an intensive three-day YMCA certification school at the St. Charles YMCA, under the supervision of Jerry Campbell, regional YMCA aquatic director. Baggot received certification in basic leadership, the National YMCA Progressive Swim Program, and lifeguarding and lifesaving.

Bretfni will be supervising and teaching swim classes at the YMCA. Parents and swimmers will be taught with lesson plans, proper and up-to-date leveling methods and aids. Parents will be able to observe each class. Swim promotion YMCA cards, and parent evaluation forms, will be used. The YMCA program store will make available colorful YMCA patches, which will help swimmers and lifeguards to better identify skill levels and give better supervision at YMCA open swims.

"The YMCA pool, under the leadership of Baggot, will be improved with good skill development, fun in a safer environment. Sign up for swim classes starting the week of January 7," said Jerry Swatling, YMCA executive director.

Innocent pleas in valuation case

Innocent pleas were submitted Thursday at the Madison County Courthouse by Robert F. Quinn, an Alton attorney, and his secretary, Beverly Delaney, in connection with allegations that real estate assessment reductions were "sold" in exchange for bribes money.

Four other defendants named in a special grand jury's indictment Dec. 19 pleaded innocent late that month. The final two defendants appeared before Circuit Judge Phillip J. Rarick, chief criminal court judge of the Third Circuit.

Special Prosecutor Bruce D. Locher sought to have the assessment trial scheduled for Feb. 14, but Judge Rarick denied the request, saying he will set the trial date later.

DAMAGE TRUCK-CAMPER

Jack Huether, 4860 Warnock Ave., reported last week that his pickup truck with a camper shell was damaged while parked in the Granite City Steel blast furnace lot. All windows in the truck and camper were smashed and the body had been dented by a metal bar, baseball bat or something similar.

State bus subsidy declines as local support expands; crops good, but not income

a. State subsidy of mass transportation has declined in the last decade as local support has increased in importance, State Comptroller Roland W. Burris has reported. This is of particular interest to the Chicago area, where 97 percent of the state's almost 725 million mass transit rides are taken annually, he noted.

Burris said a major issue that has faced mass transportation has been what revenue sources should be used for subsidies to cover the difference between farebox revenues and operating costs. State funding has been scaled back in the past decade as local taxes were created and methods were developed to limit the growth of bus subsidies.

The comptroller's latest monthly fiscal report provides a ten-year review of how Illinois mass transportation has been funded and trends which have affected ridership.

Also in the report, the Illinois economic picture details Illinois' agricultural production for 1984.

With the return of good weather and full planting, Illinois farmers reported a good harvest. While livestock producers saw a rise in prices, crop prices declined, erasing the hope of many farmers to retire debt accumulated during prior years.

In the regular report on the state's fiscal health, the general funds' balance at the end of November was $334 million as revenues for the first five months of fiscal 1985 increased 12.6 percent compared to the prior year.

Here are some of the key findings of the comptroller's special report on Illinois mass transportation:

— Geographically, public transportation is most widely used in the Chicago area, whose carriers under the jurisdiction of the Regional Transportation Authority account for 97.3 percent of all rides.

During 1983, 724.9 million rides were made on mass transportation carriers — almost 64 rides for each of Illinois' 11.5 million citizens. However, that number continued a downward trend that started in 1979, when 846 million rides were recorded.

A look at the history of fares for the two most widely used services, the CTA and commuter railroads in the Chicago area, showed that fare increases may have been one cause of the decline, although the weak economy may also have been a contributor.

Unlike mass transit in the Chicago area, Downstate systems did not experience a major ridership decline until 1983, when the number of rides fell 4.7 million to 19.9 million, a drop of 19.1 percent.

Between fiscal 1975 and fiscal 1984, Illinois spending for mass transit had been divided between six funds, including general revenue, road, public transportation, downstate public transportation, bi-state public transportation and transportation bond Series B funds.

Fiscal 1984 spending of $129.6 million was $15.3 million or 10.6 percent less than 1975 spending of $144.9 million.

In the 10-year period, total annual spending fluctuated with spending increases of $47.7 million between 1975 and 1981.

The Regional Transportation Authority, created in 1974, oversees mass transit in the Chicago metropolitan area. Since its creation, the RTA's primary revenue sources for operating subsidies have been state grants provided through the Public Transportation Fund, RTA levied taxes and federal operating assistance.

In 1975, the RTA was almost exclusively supported by grants from the Public Transportation Fund. For the following two years, federal assistance provided an additional major revenue source.

In fiscal 1978 and 1979, revenues from the 5 percent RTA motor fuel tax, levied in the RTA district, comprised a third by revenue source. Because of the two new sources, state grants accounted for less than half of RTA funds for the first time in 1974.

During fiscal 1980, Public Transportation Fund grants and the RTA motor fuel tax were replaced by an RTA sales tax levied at a 1 percent rate in Cook County and at a 0.25 percent rate for the remaining RTA counties.

Since 1981, the sales tax has been the primary source of revenues for the RTA. Thus, during the decade, the RTA's primary sources have shifted from a state subsidy to a tax levied on the district's residents.

Following a history of financial problems, state law was amended in fiscal 1984 to require the RTA system to fund at least 50 percent of its operating costs with system-generated revenues such as fares and ancillary government contributions.

Failure to attain this ratio would trigger a reduction in state aid by the amount revenues fall short of reaching the 50 percent ratio. It is hoped this rule will force the RTA to react to developing financial crises before they reach mammoth proportions and also encourage carrier efficiency, Burris said.

What's in the future for Illinois mass transportation funding? Most state expenditures have either subsidized carrier operating deficits or provided matching funds required to receive federal capital assistance. In the past decade, spending for capital grants has grown in response to a rise in federal capital awards.

However, operating assistance declined over 1975 levels as the RTA had come to depend on revenue from its sales tax for much of its subsidy needs.

Additional subsidies could be needed if the declining trend in ridership continues or if federal operating grants are eliminated as part of a federal budget reduction plan.

After a year of drought and government incentives not to plant, 1984 marked a year of improved weather and the return of a more normal crop production levels.

Estimated corn production of 1.335 billion bushels, a 4.4 percent increase over 1983 production of 1.284 billion bushels.

Soybean production of 285 million bushels was 10.5 percent greater than the previous year's 267 million bushels.

Higher production meant lower prices in 1984. The November 1984 corn price of $2.63 per bushel was 70 cents or 22.9 percent below the price of a year ago.

Similarly, the November 1984 soybean price of $6.10 per bushel was $2.06 or 25.2 percent below the year earlier price.

The falling crop prices reflected stiff export competition as well as increased domestic crops, Burris said.

In contrast to the crop situation, livestock prices rose during the past year. The November hog price of $48.10 per 100 lbs. was $10.40 or 27.6 percent above the year earlier price and the second highest level in eight years.

Those higher prices were due to a decline in hog production reflecting last year's high feed costs on hog production margins. The increase in cattle prices was more modest, as the November steer price of $29.40 per 100 lbs. for steers and heifers was $2.50 or 4.4 percent above the year ago level.

The increase in production does not mean more money in the farmer's pocket, Burris pointed out. The U.S. Department of Agriculture expects net farm cash income to show a decline in 1984 as the increase in farm receipts from more production will be offset by the higher costs resulting from the expanded acreage planted.

The weak farm income situation as well as high interest rates have had a negative impact on farm equipment purchases. Through the first 10 months of 1984, national tractor sales were 7.5 percent below the prior year and 54.4 percent below sales of 1979. National combine sales were 14.6 percent below their prior year level and 69.2 percent below 1979 sales.

Burris said the decline in crop prices has had an uneven impact on the farm community. While benefiting livestock producers, it has particularly hurt the farmers, who hoped to use the higher income to retire debt taken on during the expansion period of the 1970s.

Future price trends will depend on the weather and export demand for U.S. products as well as the impact of any changes in the federal farm program included in the deficit reduction package.

The available balance in the state's general funds at the end of November was $334 million, $25 million above the end-of-month balance in November 1983. The month-end balance had remained above the $200 million fiscal "warning zone" for 12 consecutive months.

Total revenues from all sources to the general funds in five months of fiscal 1985 were $454 million or 12.6 percent above comparable revenues for the same period of 1984. Revenues from state sources increased by $338 million while federal sources climbed by $118 million.

Sales tax receipts were up $323 million.

Federal sources, up $118 million.

Transfers in, up $104 million.

Investment income, up $23 million.

Corporation franchise tax, down $15 million.

Income tax receipts, down $19 million.

Inheritance taxes, down $36 million.

Short-term borrowing, down $50 million.

Total General Funds expenditures in July-November were $3.9 billion, $307 million or 8.4 percent above the first five months of fiscal 1984.

Public aid grants were up $150 million.

Operations spending, up $132 million.

Transfers out, up $63 million.

Refunds spending, up $17 million.

Debt service, up $14 million.

And common school fund spending, down $91 million.

BAC telecourse brings literature to life

Seeing literature come alive will make "American Playhouse" a special course for telecourse students at Belleville Area College this spring.

"American Playhouse" is based on a series of stage plays, musicals, book adaptations and docudramas by American writers.

INSTRUCTOR GERALD Taylor is enthused about the productions, which will air on Channel 9. "It's really an exciting way to teach the material," he said. "And the material is beautifully produced and acted."

Students will do more than watch TV, Taylor said. Instructional material has been developed to go along with each play and students will have to fill out a worksheet after watching each production, including their personal reaction to it.

Taylor will print these reactions in a newsletter for his students in lieu of a class discussion.

LAST YEAR, the course was offered as a speech credit. This semester it will be offered as a literature credit. Because each semester features different plays, students can retake the course for literature credit.

Taylor says telecourses are a new, valuable path for literature courses. "I volunteered to teach the course because I really like to teach literature," he said. "On campus, a lot of literature course enrollments are diminishing. Telecourses offer the class in a new way."

Enrollment in "American Playhouse" is doing very well for the spring quarter. The course will air at 6 p.m. Mondays on Channel 9.

OTHER TELECOURSES planned for this spring are:

— "The Business of Management," 3 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays on Channel 8 and from 6 to 7 p.m. Tuesdays on Southwestern Cable;

— "An Invitation to Fly: Basics for the Private Pilot," viewings of tapes will be arranged;

— "THE LIVING Environment," 6:15 a.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays, Channel 9;

— "The New Literacy," 6:15 to 6:45 a.m. Wednesdays and Thursdays, Channel 9; and 3:30 to 4 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays, Channel 8;

— "America: The Second Century," 7 to 8 a.m. Saturdays, Channel 9;

— "VIETNAM," 10 P.M. Mondays, Channel 9;

— "The Home Gardener," viewings of tapes will be arranged;

— "Understanding Human Behavior," 8 to 9 a.m. Saturdays, Channel 9;

— "GROWING YEARS," 7:30 to 8:30 a.m. Sundays, Channel 9, and;

— "Focus on Society," 9 to 10 a.m. Saturdays, Channel 9.

Students may register for telecourses by calling 1-235-2700, extension 200, or 931-0600. Evenings, they may call 1-235-7900. They may use VISA or MasterCard to pay tuition and fees.

STUDENTS MAY also register by visiting the telecourse office in room 1275 at the main campus, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville, days or the Registrar's Office at the main campus evening.

Telecourses give you the opportunity to earn college credit without commuting to the campus every week. Telecourse students receive a study guide and assignments to complete in conjunction with programs shown on television. Few visits to campus are required.

If a student misses a program or wishes to review one, they can do so at the BAC main campus and Granite City Center libraries and at the Granite City Public Library.

CARING FOR THE COUGARS. Michele Catoire (standing) of Evanston and Robbie Thielman of East Alton, two Cougar guards at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, take care of Kyno, the university's young mascot, who is 2-years-old and weighs about 100 pounds. The guards also care for Chimego, the original mascot, who has become too old to participate in events. Besides escorting Kyno to university events, guard members also share the tasks of feeding and walking both animals, cleaning the pens and taking them to the vet for shots and to get their teeth cleaned. GCC to offer secretarial training

Granite City Center of Belleville Area College can train students to use the latest office equipment. The center offers a wide array of secretarial science classes that can prepare them to find a job in the business world.

The center's secretarial training includes word processing, typing, shorthand, business machines and business communications.

STUDENTS CAN work toward a one-year certificate or a two-year degree in secretarial science or word processing.

The word-processing equipment at GCC is modern and up-to-date," said Judi Sparks, an educational specialist at GCC. "Students will learn to use the IBM Displaywriter, Wang OIS 50 word-processing system, a Radio Shack microcomputer and the Supertype and the IBM 65 electronic typewriters."

An exciting part of the program is the secretarial science/word processing field project. A student works an average of 10 hours a week at a business. The class then meets to discuss their experiences in class. They receive both course credit and experience.

REGISTRATION FOR these and all classes at GCC is under way. Students may register from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays and from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Fridays at the center's main office, 4850 Maryville Road, Granite City.

Phone registration is also under way. Call 931-0600 to register and use VISA or MasterCard to pay tuition and fees.

REGISTRATION continues through Wednesday, Jan. 16. Classes begin the week of Saturday, Jan. 21.

SIUE to show 'Terms of Endearment'

"Terms of Endearment" (PG) is scheduled to be shown at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Jan. 10 through 12.

The film will be shown Jan. 10 at 2:30 p.m., Jan. 11 at 7 and 9:30 p.m., and Jan. 12 at 7 p.m. All showings will be in the science auditorium, located on the first floor of the Science Building.

TICKETS ARE $1 for SIUE students with identification and $1.50 for non-students.

for non-students. They may be purchased in the University Center's Union Station.

Directed by James Brooks, the movie stars Debra Winger, Shirley MacLaine and Jack Nicholson.

The story explores the relationship between mother and daughter. Debra Winger is depicted as a generous, strong-willed woman who spends most of her life trying not to be her mother's daughter.

SHIRLEY MacLaine plays her mother, a woman who believes happiness can be achieved only if she maintains absolute control over her life and the lives of those around her.

Their bitter-sweet search for happiness and happiness is complicated by a series of romantic entanglements leading to lust, love and pain. The slate of actors also includes Danny DeVito and John Lithgow.

Additional information can be obtained by contacting the SIUE Student Program Board at 1-692-2617.

Students collect clothing

More than 250 articles of warm clothing for the needy were collected at Belleville Area College. The clothing will be distributed through the BRIDGE Crisis Center in Belleville and will go to area residents who have had their power cut off.

BAC nursing student Luan Downen initiated the drive to provide warm clothing to area residents. She visited the agency as part of a class project.

"I WAS interviewing the director, Marcie Eckert, when she said that 7,000 people in the area would be without heat this winter and they would really need coats, blankets, anything that would keep them warm," Downen said.

Downen went to Barb Monken, the faculty advisor for the student Nurse Association. They set up a collection point in the first floor lobby at the college where students and staff could drop off clothing.

Donations included 121 coats, 17 blankets and 120 hats, scarves and sweaters.

SIUC educator offers driving tips for the winter

In severe winter weather, the best advice is to stay out of the car and off the roads. But even on the coldest days when streets are the icest, it just may not be possible to stay home.

Dan V. Shannon, coordinator of the Advanced Driver Education Project at Southern Illinois University-Carbondale and driving workshop director for the National Safety Council, said that preparing one's car before bad weather hits is the first precaution to take for getting through the winter without a scratch.

PERSONS SHOULD tune the engine, get a strong battery and tires with good tread, and check the exhaust pipes for leaks before the first snow, Shannon advised. Snow tires or tire chains may make it easier to maneuver on the worst days, but Southern Illinois usually has no more than 15 to 25 days of bad roads.

"Research has shown us that chains cut braking distances by one-half and are six times better than regular tires without chains," Shannon said.

It's also a good idea to check the engine coolant and antifreeze for proper levels and replace worn windshield wipers. It may cost a few dollars, he said, but it's well worth the expense.

IF DRIVING can't be avoided when the weather is threatening, one should make sure the car is stocked with emergency equipment. Persons should pack the trunk with flares or reflective triangles, a flashlight, jumper cables, a blanket, a candle, a shovel and some kind of traction aid like bags of sand, a piece of carpet, kitty litter or oil-dry. "Once you're ready to go, the best way to keep between the fence posts is to look ahead and plan ahead more than ever," Shannon said. "Don't get yourself in a position where you'll have to make sudden movements to prevent skids. Leave plenty of driving room and other cars."

In case of skidding, one should remember the most important thing is to steer in the direction of the skid, and stay off the brakes and gas pedal.

"Locked-up brakes leave no steering control," he said. "Breaking is the worst mistake most people make on ice and snow."

ON A LONG TRIP, the same precautions should be taken winter or summer. If trouble occurs, one should stay in the car. Emergency vehicles and road crews will be along to help in most cases, but if it appears one could be stranded for very long, one should light the candle (for warmth), run the engine briefly every 15 minutes and roll down a window just a bit in case of exhaust leaks. Persons should check the tailpipe for snow or other blockage and, of course, "try not to run out of gas."

"Bad weather can compound any problem that you already have," Shannon said. "Don't try to operate your vehicle when you're not fully prepared to drive—mentally, emotionally and physically. That advice goes beyond drinking and driving, 365 days a year."

MU hosts financial aid seminar

Marquette University (MU) will host an Admissions and Financial Aid seminar in St. Louis on Sunday, Jan. 27, beginning at 2 p.m.

At the seminar, prospective students and their parents will be given the opportunity to discuss financing and MU education as well as admission to the university. The seminar, hosted by MU alumni, will be held at the Sheraton - West Port Inn, 191 West Port Plaza.

A SLIDE presentation of the campus will be presented at the seminar, and parents of current MU students will offer a parental perspective on Marquette and Milwaukee. In addition, staff from both the MU Office of Admissions and Office of Student Financial Aid will be present to answer questions. Local alumni will be available for career counseling as well.

Registration opens for Madison center

Registration for Belleville Area College's Madison Extension Center will begin tomorrow, Jan. 8, and continue until Wednesday. Those interested in taking classes may sign up in Room 109 at the high school on the above days. Registration will be accepted from 6 to 8 p.m.

Classes to be offered this semester include: Aerobic Dancing, Photography, Floral Design, Air Conditioning and Refrigeration, Upholstery, Beginning Sewing, Woodworking and Furniture Refinishing, Auto Body Repair, Welding, Auto Mechanics, Shortland Refresher, Typing Refresher, Physical Fitness and Small Gas Engines.

BAC Coordinator Charles Steptoe, advises those having questions about any of the programs to call him at 876-7135.

Ste. Genevieve, Corps' last stern wheel dredge, is retired

A most unique boat, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' last stern wheel dredge, the Ste. Genevieve, has been retired after more than 50 years of service.

The 1,200-horsepower cutterhead dredge has been keeping the barge channels clear since it was built in 1932. It has been used at various locations along 300 miles of the Mississippi River and the lower 90 miles of the Illinois River during periods of water, maintaining a navigation channel at least nine feet deep and 300 feet wide.

FIFTY-THREE Corps employees—15 permanent and 38 seasonal—have been affected by the retirement of the Ste. Genevieve. Efforts are being made to reassign them in transfers within the Corps or employment with other federal agencies or in the private sector.

The demise of the Ste. Genevieve came about when a clause of Public Law 95-209, first passed in April 1978, became realistic. That law said that when private industry has the proven dredging capability, the Corps is to advertise available work and award it to the lowest responsible bidder, with the exception of that work set aside for the minimum fleet of Corps dredges.

The law also authorized a "minimum fleet" for the Corps which is to be technologically modern and kept fully operational to provide for national defense and emergency needs.

THE NEW HOME and perhaps final resting place for Ste. Genevieve is at the St. Louis District Service Base, at the foot of Arsenal Street in St. Louis.

Ste. Genevieve was a one-of-a-kind boat that "walks" on the river bottom. It's a sternwheeler, Mark Twain style—the only one left.

Most large rivers today are diked, but the Ste. Genevieve had steam power, a glistening orange paddlewheel, ivory skin (numerous coats of paint thick), and brass fittings. Capt. Gerald "Jay" Roy" Lix commented, "She's pretty to look at."

LEVERMAN Joseph Donovan, added, "She don't look any different now than when she came out; paint's a little thicker." Capt. Lix and Donovan have combined service totaling 60 years aboard.

The vintage cutterhead dredge actually walked as she worked. It could bite approximately 1,048 cubic yards per hour of solids and pump them out a half-mile away from the navigation channel. In 120 days last year, it sucked up 1,951,500 yards of sand, dirt, rocks and logs, or about 500 times the volume of its own 267-foot hull.

Before the days of sonar, radar and air conditioning, work on the Ste. Genevieve was more difficult, and hazardous.

THE DEPTH of the channel was determined by hit-or-miss soundings with 12-pound lead-weighted ropes to find submerged hazards. Oversight of hidden sandbars was common. Now, sonar finds all sandbars and sunken objects and writes out a riverbed diagram.

The first voice radio was installed in 1943. "Got better communications today. Boats are in contact with the dredge three miles away," said Carl E. Barron, who served 43½ years with the Corps, 15 on the Ste. Genevieve, before retiring in 1972 as chief of the channel maintenance section for the St. Louis District.

"Only thing we had till the '40s was the Morse code, and only in daylight. Nobody but the clerk knew how to work the telegraph," Barron recalled.

ANOTHER PROBLEM the Ste. Genevieve encountered was with the wooden spuds upon which the boat "walked" while at work. Occasionally, one would break or lose an eight-foot, 2,000-pound "shoe." Barron recalls that when that happened,

"We'd be laid up four or five days till the service base made one. They didn't keep a lot in stock." He noted that one shoe remains buried in the river near the Chain of Rocks Canal at the western edge of Granite City.

Barron also recalled slow-going with the dredge when it was used to "clip off 15 to 20 wooden dikes a year that had served their purpose. The dredge (cutterhead) swinging against the dikes, hitting solid piling or rock, would throw officers in their quarters out of the second (top bunk)," he remembers. This prompted putting up railings on the bunks.

THE BOTTOMS of the dikes also would clog the dredge's pumps, so they had to be cleaned.

Life was not easy in the early days aboard the Ste. Genevieve. There was no air conditioning and "shower water was so damn hot when you came out you were almost scorched, but the fellows overcame that. We always had to buy ice until 1945," he recalled.

The ice was in 300-pound blocks. "They'd go in the icebox and chip off a piece, put it in a pillowslip and tie it over the (shower) faucet. Otherwise, you'd scald yourself," he remembers.

Barron said he prefers steam power to diesel engines. "The screw wheel (propeller on a diesel engine) gives you a lot more power, better maneuverability. If you're heading up river, you can run one ahead, the other back, and pull it right on around," he said, noting that a sternwheeler required more room.

"BUT IF I HAD my 'rathers, I'd keep steam. It's more reliable. You had 1,200 horsepower on the pump; you could add more steam and push it to 1,500. You've got maximum on the diesel and that's it."

"And used to, diesel cylinders drove you crazy with the noise. You never knew in the early days whether they would blow up," Barron concluded.

WHERE OLD MEETS NEW. The new National Food Store, right, scheduled to open on Jan. 28, and the present National store appear nearly joined in this photo. Plans for the new building called for using as much of the available space as possible at the site resulting in the tight squeeze between the two structures. The new 45,000-square-foot building is more than twice the size of the current store, which will be razed to make way for additional parking. The Leo Wolf Company is the general contractor for the project.

Probation set in highway fatality

George Placan, 22, of 2015 Pontoon Road has been placed on 18-month probation and ordered to pay a $410 fine and $90 in court costs for leaving the scene of an accident.

The Dec. 2, 1983, charge was reduced from reckless homicide in the death of a bicyclist. James Crouch, 27, of 13 Lakeview Drive, Pontoon Beach, was riding a bicycle along Route 162 near the Granite City Steel blast furnace in November 1983 when struck by a vehicle and fatally injured.

Placan was arrested later by Madison police.

SET NEW HEARING DATE

A new court hearing date will be set for Judy M. Branahan, 18, of Collinsville, who was transferred last week from the Collinsville Police Department to Granite City on a local warrant, alleging failure to appear on a charge of failing to display a registration.

Probation ordered in escape attempt

Madison County Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill has ordered 2½ years of probation for a Granite City man convicted of separate charges of forgery and aiding in a jail escape attempt.

Lawrence Ironson, 43, who also uses the name Lawrence R. Butts, authorities said, pleaded guilty to the charges June 21, 1983, and sentencing took place in late 1984. Ironson, who listed addresses at 2136 Dewey Ave. and 2129 Bryan Ave., was arrested June 1, 1983, by detectives and sheriff's deputies near the county jail after he allegedly tried to gain access to the roof.

Informational documents alleged that Ironson was attempting to help release Harold Jeffries, who was in custody for an armed robbery at Schnuck's supermarket in Granite City.

The forgery charge against Ironson was filed April 8, 1983.

Two sentenced for theft at local market

An East St. Louis woman and a Brooklyn man have been sentenced for their convictions in a September 1984 shopping incident at the Shop 'N Save food store in Granite City.

Doris Reed, 38, was ordered to serve 60 days in the Madison County jail and to pay a $145 fine and $35 in court costs.

Judge Philip J. Rarick sentenced Albert Banks, 41, to six months' probation and ordered him to pay $35 costs.

Both defendants were accused of retail theft. The charges were filed Sept. 11 and guilty pleas were submitted Nov. 13.

Granite City police took the pair into custody at the store, where the woman allegedly had two boxes of shrimp and a package of meat, with a total value of more than $31, in her possession.

WARRANT FOR GIRL, 14

A 14-year-old girl from another community was taken into custody at Granite City High School at 11:25 a.m. Friday on an active warrant held by the Madison County Sheriff's Department. She was transferred to the Juvenile Detention Home in Edwardsville by a county juvenile officer at 12:15 p.m. that day.

ASSAULT IS ALLEGED

Joseph J. Swigert, 30, of 2003 Washington Ave., was arrested there at 9:05 a.m. Friday on an active warrant alleging assault. He was released after posting a $202 cash bond.

YMCA child care supervisor being sought

The Tri-City Area YMCA is in need of an individual to lead the child care program. The program meets Mondays through Fridays after school, from 3 to 6 p.m.

The YMCA is looking for an individual who is good with children, who enjoys working with them and who has had at least two years' experience. Both educational and recreational experience is helpful. The individual should be at least 21 years of age, be able to pick children up from school and assume supervision of the child care program.

Interested applicants may call the YMCA at 876-7200, and ask for the executive director, Jerry Swatling.

Dismiss charge in shotgun wounding

An aggravated battery allegation against Robert C. Thies, 26, of 3041 Beckwith Ave., Madison, has been dismissed on a motion of the prosecution.

Thies was charged June 18 following a shooting incident that resulted in injuries to Keith Hillmer of Madison.

Madison police said Hillmer suffered wounds to his abdomen and right collarbone area when pellets were fired from a .410 gauge shotgun.

Put on probation for cocaine possession

Sandra Duval, 28, of 4261 E. Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach, has been placed on probation for one year and ordered to pay a $1,000 fine, $100 special costs and $95 court costs by Madison County Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick.

She pleaded guilty Nov. 26 to an Oct. 1 charge of possessing a controlled substance. The charge was issued after a small amount of cocaine allegedly was found in her vehicle by Collinsville police.

Plea to possession results in probation

Madison County Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill has ordered Tommy Poindexter, 22, of 2210 W. 30th St., to serve one year of probation and pay a $45 fine, $95 in court costs and $4 in special costs for unlawful delivery of a controlled substance.

The allegation was filed June 28, 1984, after an investigation by the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Northwestern Illinois. Poindexter pleaded guilty Dec. 7.

ARREST BASED ON WARRANT

Gary Gene Smith, 28, of 2425 Missouri Ave., was booked by Granite City police at 4:45 p.m. Thursday on a mid-1984 warrant alleging petty theft.

Another record season

By Joan Muraro

SPRINGFIELD — Illinois deer hunters unofficially racked up another record year in a split season aided by good weather but marred by two fatalities, Conservation Department spokesmen said.

The unofficial totals indicate a final take of 28,592, with an unusually high total of 7,968 deer taken in the second half of the hunting period.

Traditionally, fewer hunters take to the fields in the second half of the season, and the deer, wary after having been hunted intensively, are more difficult to bag, resulting in significantly lower harvest at the end of the hunting period.

This year, according to Forrest Loomis, forest game biologist for the department, the second half of the hunting period showed a 10.8 percent increase (2,814 deer) over the second season totals last fall. Loomis said there was no readily apparent explanation for the improved yields.

There were two hunt-related deaths during the two seasons. A 23-year-old man from Godfrey was fatally wounded east of Batchtown on Dec. 8, when he apparently was hit by a ricocheting shotgun slug fired by a hunting companion. In the second instance, a hunter in Schuyler County died after being struck by a slug fired by his hunting partner, after it apparently passed through a deer's neck before hitting the other hunter.

Though counties in southern Illinois and along the Mississippi River as usual produced the highest harvests, northeastern Illinois counties all produced some deer for hunters there.

McHenry reported 38 in the second season, for a season total of 187; Kendall had 11 in the second season and a year's total of 51, and Grundy reported 36 in the second season, for a year's total of 142. There were nine deer taken in the second hunting season in Kankakee County, which had a yearly total of 45, and in Will there were 24 in the second season for a yearly total of 52.

No deer hunting is permitted in Lake, Kane, Cook and DuPage counties because of human population densities, but the ban apparently has encouraged a deer population explosion which in turn is causing problems for many homeowners as browsing deer destroy yards, gardens and costly plantings.

For more than a year, the Conservation Department has been conducting a study of the extent of the problem and possible solutions. Findings, which could include recommending controlled hunts, are expected to be announced in the next two to three months.

Cable failure causes area power outages

Illinois Power Company officials say it was the failure of a primary underground cable that caused numerous power outages in the Pontoon Beach area this morning.

According to Michael Morris, assistant electric distribution supervisor at Illinois Power, power was restored to some customers at 5:30 a.m., while customers in Gaslight Walk apartment buildings regained power at about 7:30 this morning. Although all customers now have power, Morris said, Illinois Power crews will be working to repair the failed cable today.

Morris had no estimate of how many customers were left without power when the line failed about 12:30 a.m.

SUPERVISION ORDERED ON POSSESSION OF SYRINGE

Madison County Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick has ordered six months' supervision of Pamela Craig, 25, of 108 Abbott St., Venice.

She also was ordered to pay $35 in court costs following her guilty plea Dec. 3 to possession of a controlled substance, specifically a hypodermic syringe. The charge was filed April 24, 1984.

Lawmakers begin preparing new bills

By Steve Hahn

SPRINGFIELD — Although the new legislative session has not begun, lawmakers already have begun preparing a host of new bills on topics from air bags to air pumps.

Many of the measures will die quiet deaths in committee hearings. But a number of the early efforts are likely to generate significant interest when the new session begins in earnest next spring. The session officially begins Jan. 9, but legislators will not begin most committee work until early February.

Among the early efforts with the best potential for generating interest are a series of motor vehicle-related measures. They include measures banning the sale of leaded gasoline in the state and requiring school buses to be equipped with seat belts.

The Chicago City Council already has banned leaded gas sales there, and Gov. James R. Thompson has indicated at least tacit support for a statewide ban. The measure requiring a state ban was pre-filed in the House by Rep. Al Roman, D-Chicago, and in the Senate by Sen. Emil Jones, D-Chicago.

The school seat-belt bill is being pushed by Rep. John Cullerton, a Chicago Democrat who sponsored the child passenger restraint law.

Cullerton also has pre-filed a passenger vehicle seat-belt bill similar to a measure sent to the governor by the Senate in December. Cullerton's new effort to require front seat passengers to buckle up or face a $25 fine would be pursued only if Thompson vetoes the pending bill.

A bill related to the passenger seat-belt bill also has been pre-filed. It would require cars built after 1987 and sold in Illinois to be equipped with air bags.

If it is pushed, the measure is likely to draw strenuous opposition from car manufacturers, who supported the air bag bill as an alternative to air bags.

A motor vehicle bill that probably will draw praise from most motorists would require service stations with eight or more gasoline pumps to provide the public with an air compressor for tire inflation.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Robert Terzich, D-Chicago, would fine service station operators $50 for every day they failed to install a compressor.

Rep. Richard Mautino, D-Spring Valley, has pre-filed a bill that would reverse the Legislature's action two years ago and repeal the ban on Sunday car sales. The current law, which has been upheld by the Illinois Supreme Court, was passed after some car dealers claimed that keeping their showrooms open on Sundays was too expensive.

Other measures filed early include:

— A proposal by Sen. Jerome Joyce, D-Ridgick, to give local officials key role in the siting of nuclear waste storage facilities.

The measure would require that before the state Department of Nuclear Safety approves a siting, it first get the OK of either the local county board or municipal officials.

Illinois will have to come up with a storage site for low-level nuclear waste within the next several years because of its waste storage agreement with Kentucky. The compact calls for Illinois to store both states' waste.

— A proposal to alter the method of calculating the state utility tax.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Tom Homer, D-Canton, would change the method of calculating the tax from a percentage of the price of natural gas or electricity to a flat rate based on units of consumption.

The change would not immediately alter the revenue generated for the state by the tax, but as utility rates increase, the tax would remain the same. Currently the tax increases as utility rates increase.

Business and industrial lobbyists objected to a similar plan last year after it became clear their clients would not get the same type of long-term tax benefits as would homeowners.

— A proposal to set up collective bargaining rights for police officers.

The measure, sponsored in the House by Rep. John Matijevich, D-North Chicago, and in the Senate by Sen. Jeremiah Joyce, D-Chicago, would require local units of government to recognize police bargaining units in a fashion similar to the new law that sets up bargaining rights for teachers.

However, the police bill would prohibit strikes, work stoppages and slowdowns.

Allege driver hits van, leaves scene

Clifford A. Dellamano, 26, of 2616 Nameoki Drive, was halted at 27th and Benton streets at 10:15 p.m. Sunday when officers believed his vehicle had been involved in a hit and run accident in the 900 block of Niedringhaus Avenue about an hour earlier.

Dellamano was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, leaving the scene of an accident with property damage and driving while the vehicle's registration sticker was expired.

According to witnesses, Dellamano's 1974 Trailblazer was traveling west on Niedringhaus Avenue when it allegedly struck a parked panel van belonging to Paul D. Jones, 12 Briarcliff Drive.

Dellamano consented to take a breathalyzer test prior to being cited on the DUI charge. He was released upon posting a $102 cash bond.

Campaign cost Simon $5.3 million

By Michael Murphy
Democratic U.S. Sen. Paul Simon, often portrayed as a prairie populist, had enough well-heeled friends to raise and spend nearly $5.3 million in his 1984 election campaign.

About $303,000 of that came from political action committees — groups Simon wrote just as soon as he was banished from the political process.

Simon, who long has advocated limited public funding of federal campaigns, and outgoing U.S. Sen. Charles Percy engaged in the most expensive political campaign in Illinois history.

He will continue to push for public financing and other campaign reforms, Simon said in a recent interview. "What we did this year was simply to play the game by the rules in place at the time."

The game in 1984 cost Simon and Percy more than $10.8 million, according to Federal Election Commission reports. PACs chipped in $1.3 million for Percy, who reported spending more than $5 million to Simon's $4.4 million through the end of November.

By the time all accounts are settled, Simon expects his primary and general election campaign bills to be about $5.3 million, while Percy's will top $6 million.

Neither total, by the way, accounts for so-called "third-party" expenditures on behalf of either candidate. Examples would be mailings, buttons or bumper stickers purchased directly with state or national party funds.

Democratic and GOP national Senate campaign committees each spent the maximum allowed — about $694,400 — on behalf of their respective candidates.

Nor do the totals reflect the estimated $700,000-plus dumped into a dump-Percy campaign by out-of-state interests opposed to Percy on issues such as abortion, gun control or his nominal support for Arab causes in the Middle East.

The latter is widely cited as the reason behind the victory of Percy, campaign waged by California Michael Goland, who spent as much as $500,000 of his own money on billboards and television ads that depicted Percy among other things, as a political chameleon.

The FEC ruled this week that Goland did not work in violation with U.S. Rep. Tom Corcoran, R-Ottawa, in Corcoran's unsuccessful campaign against Percy in the Republican primary, as Percy had alleged.

Simon, who says he tried to discourage further spending by Goland, calls the billboard ads "heavyhanded." Percy "doesn't deserve to be depicted as a reptile," Simon said during the campaign.

However, Simon also doesn't think Goland deserves any credit for Simon's 69,000-vote win over Percy.

"My feeling is that his (Goland's) role has been exaggerated," says Simon. "In the primary, I'm not sure that he didn't hurt Corcoran more than Percy."

Although the Illinois race often competed for national attention, the most costly 1984 Senate campaign was waged in North Carolina, where Republican U.S. Sen. Jesse Helms and Democratic Gov. James Hunt spent more than $20 million.

Parking laws now effective

SPRINGFIELD — Able-bodied people who park in spaces reserved for the handicapped now will be subject to a $50 fine.

The measure, which became effective Jan. 1, was prepared by Attorney General Neil Hartigan's office and introduced at his request incorporating recommendations of two citizen advisory councils on problems affecting the disabled.

"Thousands of disabled persons throughout Illinois, finding convenient and accessible parking is a tremendous problem," Hartigan said. "Mobile individuals who are insensitive to this problem create a severe hardship for the handicapped."

In addition to imposing a standard statewide fine of $50 for illegally parking in the restricted spaces, the law will outlast the handicapped from most parking meter fees and adopts the standard handicapped parking sign recommended by the U.S. Department of Transportation.

"With this new law," Hartigan said, "Illinois law enforcement officials will have the authority to ticket violators. This should provide an effective deterrent for a problem that has existed in this state for many years."

Four injured in accident Friday

Four persons were injured in a traffic accident at 8:30 p.m. Friday on Fehling Road, near Bradley Avenue. The mishap was among 14 accidents reported in Granite City between 8 a.m. Friday and 8 a.m. Sunday.

According to police reports, an auto operated by Kathy D. McGee, 17, of 2200 Cardinal Ave., was traveling west on Fehling Road at the curb when the driver apparently lost control due to ice on the road.

Miss McGee's vehicle spun around, with the rear of her car colliding with the front end of another auto operated by Fred H. Werner, 28, of 1346 Nineteenth St., who was driving north on Fehling.

The McGee car went off the road into a Granite City School District fence, where it came to a halt, reports said. Miss McGee was cited for driving too fast for conditions.

Werner was injured and was transported by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. A passenger in the McGee auto, Amy L. Guyman, 14, of 3846 Lake St., also was injured and taken to the medical center.

Miss McGee and another passenger in her car, Stacy DeWitt, 17, of 1205 Kirkpatrick Homes, likewise sustained injuries and were taken by their parents to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

RESISTING AND CONDUCT CHARGES ARE FILED

Raymond M. Israel, 22, of 2442 Adams St., was charged with resisting arrest and disorderly conduct on Jan. 6, 1985, following his arrest in the 1700 block of Chestnut Street.

Police were called when Israel allegedly became unruly in a tavern, and left. While standing in the street, Israel was loud and abusive and creating a breach of the peace, officers alleged. The man refused to get into a squad car and was forcibly placed in the vehicle.

Police headquarters, he allegedly declined to cooperate in the booking procedure and a minor scuffle ensued before he was placed inside a cell.

Giant Canada geese return from 'extinction' to state

by Norman Emerick
District Wildlife Manager

Sundown, the 20th of November 1983, closed the second successful hunting season on the giant Canada geese (Branta canadensis maxima) in west central Illinois. From a meager beginning of 64 birds released in 1969 to a full population of 10,000 birds in 1983, this flock is a success story comparable to the familiar white-tailed deer and turkey restoration projects.

The giant Canada goose is the largest-average weight 12 pounds of several sub-species of Canada geese and was thought to be extinct 40 years ago when 80 juvenile geese were released by Harold Hanson of the Illinois Natural History Survey, the geese wintering in Rochester, Minnesota, and several captive geese were found in the wild subspecies maxima. This large goose has since been re-established in several Midwestern and north central states.

Wetlands created by surface mining for coal created a habitat that the Department of Conservation biologists believed could support a resident flock of geese. A cooperative project was started in 1967 when 80 juvenile geese were placed in holding pens at four locations in Knox and Fulton counties. The objective of the project was to establish a self-sustaining, free-flying population on private land that would provide an aesthetic and timely harvestable resource on the available wetlands. An additional 345 geese were released between 1969 and 1971 in Knox, Fulton and Henry counties. This project would not have been possible without the cooperation of individuals, sportsman's clubs, private landowners and the coal companies, all of whom contributed time, money, material and the protection needed to ensure the success of the project.

Today, the geese have pioneered all of the surrounding strip mine habitat and are used as a model for the security needed during nesting. Secure nesting sites in the form of islands seem to be the key to successful reproduction from predators (primarily skunks and raccoons). Island provide an easily defendable site for the geese. Research has shown island nests to be 82 percent successful, with an average of four goslings produced per nest, whereas shore nests were only 37.5 percent successful. The flock lives year round within the west-central part of the state. There is some late winter migration to the refuge areas in southern Illinois when the snow cover makes food unavailable locally.

DOC initiated a limited season in 1983 for the first time until a quota of 500 birds was reached. The season had been closed in 1969 to give the needed protection to establish the flock. There was concern that the birds were a nuisance because the birds were not used to hunting pressure. Several factors were taken into consideration to ensure the well-being of the flock. They included the establishment of refuge areas, requiring all hunters to report their kills and having a quota that would not harvest more than 10 percent of the 1981 fall population estimate of 7,000 birds. A normal harvest of 20 percent is allowed on the interior species of geese that winter in southern Illinois. Since the harvest was only 350 birds and the 1982 fall population estimate was in excess of 8,000 birds, the quota was raised to 800 and the season was extended to 20 days in 1983. A total of 750 birds was harvested.

The future of the giant Canada goose looks good, not only in west-central Illinois, but in Randolph, Perry, and St. Clair counties, where geese have been released on strip mined areas in an attempt to establish a second resident flock. These geese have been relocated from the metro-area of northeast Illinois, where they had become a nuisance animal.

A bird once thought to be extinct has now been re-established into the state where adequate habitat exists and provides a free-flying flock for the aesthetic appreciation of all the people, and a trophy bird for sportsmen.

'Hold-your-own' year for Illinois

The passing of 1984 was viewed with mixed emotions by Illinoisans.

For the majority it was a year of prosperity and well-being. But for many it was a year of shattered expectations, lost jobs and reduced incomes. Perhaps the best that can be said is that the worst of the year was over. Strong employment in the road construction machinery and farm machinery industry will continue at least through January.

Elsewhere in the Illinois economy there has been some rise in end indications that conditions have stabilized and that the state finally may be joining most others in a climb out of the nation's worst post-World War recession.

In the overall, 1984 was for Illinois basically a hold-your-own year. If the state did not surge ahead, neither did it slip further into difficulty. Cautious optimism spending and a temporary increase in the state income tax in 1983 assured fiscal stability for 1984. Gov. James R. Thompson and the Legislature have not felt necessary to continue the temporary income tax surtax and it was permitted to die in July.

The state's financial situation stabilized, and if the general revenue balance was not spectacular it was fairly comfortable. State employees did not have to worry about further job cutbacks and received a Christmas present with the announcement of substantial pay increases over the next three years.

For the short term, Illinois scored a victory in its fight with some northern and eastern states and Canada over the acid rain issue. President Reagan and Congress agreed with Illinois that further study is needed to determine if the burning of Illinois high-sulfur coal is indeed the cause of the acid rain problem beyond its borders.

But as for the effort to bring about greater burning of the state's bituminous coal, nothing of real significance was accomplished. Various processes for reducing the sulfur emissions or utilizing the vast coal reserves in other ways failed to produce anything that would signal a modern era boom in the state's coal fields. The study is needed.

Nor did Illinois score any real big gains in the fierce competition among the states for high-tech industries. Nor was there any indication of a turnaround by the federal government to channel more money into Illinois.

Some substantial progress, however, was reported in luring investment to Illinois from foreign countries. Thompson returned from Japan with a Christmas present for northern Illinois in the form of a Japanese-financed plant and with hopes for further Japanese investment in the years ahead.

In two other vital sectors, roads and education, the news was good. The state received the biggest outlays from the federal government for road and bridge repair as well as for some limited expansion of interstate highways. Strong employment in the road construction sector helped ease the state's overall high unemployment.

In education, test scores indicated an impressive rise in the quality of instruction in public schools. Educators say much more remains to be done and are urging a billion dollar increase in state aid next year. But the new end for education is definitely upward.

The presidential election year was an exciting one for Illinois. Native son Ronald Reagan became the first president since 1972 (Richard Nixon) to be elected to a second term. Veteran U.S. Sen.

Charles Percy was retired by the voters after three terms, being replaced by Congressman Paul Simon.

There was little change other than in the political alignment. Democrats still hold the majority of U.S. House seats and control both houses of the state Legislature. And that Democratic feat continues in Chicago with no end in sight.

DISORDERLY CONDUCT ALLEGED AT DWELLING

John L. Ishum, 24, of 2220 Missouri Ave., was charged with disorderly conduct at 5 p.m. Friday when officers responded to a second call at the dwelling, where the former allegedly was creating problems.

Penny Jackson of the 2200 block of Missouri Avenue, alleged Ishum climbed up and pounded on the roof of the residence and also beat on a parked auto.

Ishum was released upon posting a $25 cash bond.

RETURN WITH US TO...

BRUCE CABOT

BRUCE CABOT
(1904-1972)

HIS REAL NAME ETIENNE PELISSIER JACQUES DE BUJAC WOULD NOT HAVE FIT NEATLY ONTO A MOVIE MARQUEE. AS BRUCE CABOT HE WAS ONE OF HOLLYWOOD'S BUSIEST ACTORS FOR 40 YEARS, PLAYING BOTH HEROES AND HEAVIES.

BEFORE EMBARKING ON AN ACTING CAREER, THIS NATIVE OF CARLSBAD, NEW MEXICO, LIVED A VARIED LIFE. HE RAN AWAY FROM MILITARY SCHOOL AT 14, SCAVENGED CATTLE REMAINS FOR A BONE MEAL WAGON, WORKED FOR A BOXING CAMP AND SAILED AS A CREWMAN ABOARD A FREIGHTER. HE ALSO WORKED IN OIL FIELDS, SOLD AUTOMOBILES AND WAS A BOUNCER FOR A NIGHTCLUB.

THOUGH CABOT WAS A CONSISTENTLY FINE PERFORMER, HE RARELY HAD PARTS IN MEMORABLE MOVIES. AN EXCEPTION WAS HIS ROLE AS DRISCOLL, RESCUING FAY WRAY FROM THE CLUTCHES OF KING KONG (1933).

AMONG THE OTHER FAMILIAR TITLES

- OF HIS 88 FILMS...
THE LAST OF THE MOHICANS (1936)
DODGE CITY (1939)
THE DESERT SONG (1943)
CAT BALLOU (1965)
THE GREEN BERETS (1968)
DIAMONDS ARE FOREVER (1971)
